ROOSEVELT WINS PLATFORM FIGHT

Direct Nominations Plank Adopted by Saratoga Convention After He Makes a Speech.

IMPASSIONED APPEAL TO DELEGATES

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 28.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt took the platform this afternoon in the republican state convention and in an impassioned speech pleaded for the adoption of a direct primary plan.

The speech came after two hours of argument for and against the plank and on the adoption of a minority report submitted by the old guard.

Colonel Roosevelt defied the old guard and told them that unless they fell in and led the procession it would pass over them and they would be crushed. The majority report was adopted.

The convention will select the gubernatorial candidate and the state ticket late today.

A recess was taken until 5 o'clock.

The Slate.

With the exception of lieutenant governor no choice of candidates for office having been made prior to the assembling of the state convention, the slate for the state ticket, which it was expected would be placed in nomination this afternoon, was as follows:

For governor, Henry L. Stimson, of New York.

Secretary of state, Samuel S. Koenig, of New York.

Comptroller, James Thompson, of Valley Falls.

Treasurer, Thomas Fennell, of Elmira.

Attorney General Edward R. O'Malley, of Buffalo.

State engineer and surveyor, Frank M. Williams, of Oneida.

Associate judge of the court of appeals, Irving Stann, of Syracuse.

It was planned to appoint a committee to select a candidate for the other vacancy in the court of appeals, caused by the death of Judge Edward T. Bartlett.

Mr. Griscom said the majority of those in conference were in favor of Mr. Stimson, but the question would not be determined until later in the day. Two sessions of the convention seem likely today. The discussion on the platform, the progressives say, probably will take a major portion of the day, after which it may be necessary to adjourn for a night session. Between sessions the gubernatorial slate will be fixed.

It is further stated that an effort will be made to have Senator Hinman as a candidate for lieutenant governor and the leaders were trying to reach him this morning by long-distance telephone.

As he took up the gavel Colonel Roosevelt asked the delegates and spectators not to smoke.

No Contests in Convention.

The committee on credentials reported that there were no contests and there was no report to be made, which elicited from the temporary chairman words of congratulation.

"This convention," he said, "has shown that the utmost intensity of difference of opinion may be accompanied by scrupulous fairness in handling the question as to who is by right entitled to admission to the convention."

United States Senator Root was named as permanent chairman of the convention by the committee on permanent organization. The report was adopted and Colonel Roosevelt appointed Charles S. Francis, of Troy, and Speaker Wadsworth, of the assembly, to escort Mr. Root to the chair.

There was a long laugh when Colonel Roosevelt started to leave the platform without introducing Senator Root. Secretary Gleason hustled after the colonel and brought him back.

"As I understand you may not identify the gentleman I am about to introduce, I am called beck to present the permanent chairman of the convention, the Hon. Elihu Root," said Colonel Roosevelt.

Chairman Root Speaks.

Chairman Root thanked the convention for the honor they had conferred on him.

"No prepared slate of which I have heard bore my name for permanent president and no prepared speech lurks in my pocket or in my hand," said the senator.

"Nor shall I detain you by any extended remarks from the work which you have before you and from addressing yourselves to the performance of that work, so that the deliberations of the convention may be finished this day and the delegates be able to return to their homes this evening."

The chairman said there was passing over the entire country a revolt against the time-worn form of political organization.

"Initiation and referendum, recall, direct election of senators, direct nominations," said the chairman, "all are evidences that the people of our country feel that our forms of political organization do not adequately furnish the voters of the political parties the means to give effect to their political will."

Party Always Willing.

"No call for freedom, no call for free and full expression of the voters ever found the republican party unwilling to answer and to lead. It lies before this convention to show our people that, so far as our party can, our political organization shall be amplified so that the farmer and workman can give his ballot to the polls in fuller fashion.

"Apart from the machinery for our voters to have their will, there are the great questions before our people and it rests with this convention to promote the confidence of the people by the action of the republican party on these questions."

Mr. Root urged that the convention nominate good candidates as a guaranty of the party's good faith.

"We have been told by some that the wish is father to the thought, that the controversy which was brought to a vote in this convention yesterday is to be a long, internecine quarrel between the leaders of this party, equal to the old stalwart and half-breed controversy decades ago.

Differences Are Buried.

"I do not so estimate the character and loyalty of my friends, many of them among the 445 voting in the minority here yesterday. In no such direction will march the phalanx guided by my friend; the vice president of the United States. This has been our own fight here within the state without interference. It has been fought man fashion and a majority of this convention has decided and the members of the minority will bow loyally to the result.

"We will stand together," concluded the chairman; "the minority and majority of yesterday and tomorrow will stand together doing our duty, locally demonstrating our fitness for confidence and we will fight on—not for our candidates alone, but for our country."

Chairman Root's speech was heartily cheered.

The Platform.

Mr. Pendergast, of Kings, read to the convention the report of the resolutions committee.

The republicans of the state of New York, in convention represented, resolve as follows:

Warfare Against Graft.

We declare relentless warfare against official and legislative wrongdoing in this state. A republican legislature ordered an immae-

LIKELY TO SUSTAIN STATE BOARD IN ITS FIGHT

Preliminary Meeting Today Starts State Medical Convention.

Preliminary meeting of the presidents and secretaries of county societies, with the councilors of the state association at the Anthony hotel late this afternoon inaugurated the annual convention of the Indiana State Medical association, which is to be held in this city this evening, Thursday and Friday.

At noon today many of the earlier delegates had reached Fort Wayne, and others were arriving on every inbound railroad train and trolley car. Fort Wayne physicians who are acting as hosts of the occasion, say they expect one of the most interesting and successful conventions ever held by the state society.

Some Legislation Likely.

It is expected that in all probability the state association will take action to sustain the Indiana board of health in its fight for the elimination of benzoate of soda and other preservatives from all food preparations, and to commend the state health board for its advanced step along pure food lines.

Another matter which will undoubtedly be endorsed is the movement for a national department of health.

Advance political gossip indicates the selection of either Dr. T. C. Heath, of Indianapolis, or Dr. Charles H. McCully, of Logansport, as president to succeed Dr. T. C. Kennedy, of Indianapolis, the present incumbent. The president of the association is never selected from the convention city. There is said to be a strong probability that Dr. Albert E. Bulson, Jr., of this city, may be chosen secretary of the state association.

Real Work Tomorrow.

This evening the house of delegates, the legislative section of the state association, will have its first meeting at the Anthony hotel, and a smoker will be given in the main room of the hotel from 9 to 11 o'clock.

The real work of the convention will begin tomorrow with the general session at the Elks' temple at 9 o'clock, when President T. C. Kennedy will deliver his annual address. The house of delegates will again be in session during the afternoon while the general scientific session is being held at the Elks' temple. Tomorrow evening Dr. Barton Cooke Hirst, of Philadelphia, will be heard in a lecture at the Elks' temple, and later the physicians will attend the vaudeville performance at the Temple theater. A number of social affairs have been provided for the entertainment of the wives and daughters of the visiting physicians during their stay in the city, and these are in charge of the wives of the Fort Wayne physicians.

INDIANA COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

State Association Opens Two Days' Convention in Fort Wayne.

GOOD ROADS SLOGAN OF THE MEETING

Members Open Sessions and Go to Germania Park for Luncheon.

In furtherance of the establishment of good roads, which is one of the vital questions before the seventh annual convention of the County Commissioners' Association of Indiana, a project was set on foot at the opening session this morning to revive a law drafted in 1903 providing for the abolition of the contract labor system in the state prisons and utilizing the men in these institutions for the manufacture of road material. The draft of this law died in committee in 1903.

This matter was presented by J. C. Crabill, of Indianapolis, secretary of the Indiana Bureau for Good Roads, who also distributed a copy of a law he drafted for the establishment of a state highway commission consisting of the professor of civil engineering of Purdue university, the state geologist and one civilian.

The law also provides a county highway engineer for each county and a state engineer at a salary of $3,000 a year. The commissioners were asked to read the draft of this law that they may be able to discuss it during the session.

Mayor Welcomes Commissioners.

There were 200 visiting and local county officials in the assembly room of the courthouse today when Mayor Grice delivered his address of welcome in which he said that the organization has already accomplished a great amount of good and that from the character of the men here and the earnest manner in which they are taking hold is destined to do much more for the good of the state.

He said that the freedom of the city will be extended to the visitors during the two days of their session and that he and every man connected with the city government stands ready to do all that can be accomplished for the comfort and enjoyment of the men who are here to do the important work.

He commended the movement looking toward the establishment of good roads and said that there is a growing demand for improvement along this line that is bound in the course of time to bring good results and closed by saying that he was happy to see so many in attendance and that he hoped they would go away with a good word for the hospitality of Fort Wayne.

President Replies.

President Louis P. Seeburger, of Terre Haute, responded for the association saying that the warm welcome extended by the mayor was thoroughly appreciated and that he would guarantee that the delegates to the meeting would enjoy themselves as he had looked over the preparations for the meeting and is sure Allen county is prepared to take good care of its visitors.

He added that the convention has much of importance before it and that there will be plenty of good to grow out of the gathering as this has been the history in the past and that he felt sure that the main object of the assembly will not be overlooked in taking advantage of the good cheer in readiness for the men here in attendance.

Opens Up the Discussion.

This address was followed by a statement from Col. H. B. Smith, of Indianapolis, secretary of the organization. Col. Smith said that the uniform accounting act encouraged by the organization five years ago had become a reality and that the matters of vital importance for the members at this meeting are plans for a uniform method of conducting county business and the good roads movement.

He stated that good roads will be under discussion a great part of the time and added that he wanted the members to give the question a lot of thought and be ready when the time comes to make such suggestions as will in their opinion aid in the cause.

This was followed by the reading of an original poem written by "Uncle John" Ellis, of Muncie, a hard worker for the betterment of county affairs and who is now in ill health and unable to attend.

Then Mr. Crabill made his opening statement on the good roads proposition and explained his bill for the establishment of a state highway commission and asked that the delegates read it so that if there are any improvements or amendments thought necessary they can be added.

Oldest Member Talks.

"Uncle Tommy" Ryan, of Vigo county, the oldest member of the association, made a speech in which he insisted that he is not the oldest man in the fold although he may have passed more milestones on the road of life than many of the others. He declined to state just how old he is but said he felt younger than a lot of those who were anxious to find out.

Following the morning session pictures were taken of the delegates and then they were hurried into automobiles and driven about the city. This was followed by a drive to Germania park, where a Dutch lunch was served and the business session of the afternoon taken up.

The automobile owners of the city, interested in the establishment of good roads, volunteered to take the visitors to the park in their machines and to bring them back after the business of the day had been concluded.

IS MOST RADICAL PLATFORM OF ALL

Wisconsin Republicans Go the Limit in Framing Pronunciamento.

LA FOLLETTE IS THERE TO SPEAK

No Good Word for Taft Administration—What is Wanted.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 28.—What probably is the most radical platform ever adopted in a general convention by a republican convention was promulgated by Wisconsin republicans here today. The document is about 4,000 words in length and touches with no uncertain hand on a great variety of subjects. It is generally designated as a radically progressive pronunciamento.

No mention of the national administration was made save to disparage.

Senator La Follette, although far from well, was present for the first time when the resolutions were read. Mention of his name was invariably the signal for applause. He addressed the convention briefly.

What They Want.

Features of the plaform are:

Condemnation of the Payne-Aldrich tariff act.

Physical valuation of railroads and more stringent regulation of them.

Second choice primaries.

Initiative, referendum and recall.

Anti-lobby law.

Graduated income tax.

Home-rule in the liquor traffic.

National control of natural resources.

Ad valorem taxation of corporations

Condemnation of the "pernicious activity" in the recent primary campaign of the brewery corporations, insurance agencies and the binding twine "trust."

Employers' liability law.

Condemnation of the "suppression by special interests in congress of the investigations of the country life commission."

Regulation of working hours for women and children.

Urging the federal government to determine the style of craft best adapted for river use in the light of future improvement of streams.

MASSACHUSETTS PRIMARIES.

Boston, Sept. 28.—Republicans today held primaries for the selection of delegates to state, congressional, county, councillor, senatorial and representative conventions in all except 11 cities and two towns, where caucuses were held yesterday, jointly with the democrats.

Interest centered in the fights in districts where there was a clear-cut issue between Senator Henry Cabot Lodge and Congressman Butler Ames for the United States senatorship. The delegates elected to the state convention will renominate Governor Eben S. Draper for a third term and all other state officers except attorney general, where Daniel Malone retired and James M. Swift, of Fall River, will be selected to run in his place.

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 28.—The Wisconsin state democratic convention received the proposed platform upon convening this morning. It is practically the same as the original "Schmidtz" draft, with the addition of three planks.

One strongly opposing county option; another favoring changes in the existing primary law to make it "more expressive of the free choice of the people," and another favoring the passage of the "dollar a day" pension law for veterans of the civil war by the national congress.

An attempt to add a plank favoring the election of postmasters by popular vote, which was strongly urged by Congressman Weisse, of Sheboygan Falls, was defeated.

HE SAYS MOTORMAN MUST HAVE BEEN ASLEEP

Former Traction Manager Has Theory of Cause of Kingsland Wreck.

Huntington, Ind., Sept. 28.—J. C. Curtiss, a railroad man and former traction official, today declared that if the truth of the cause of the Kingsland disaster which cost 41 lives was ever known it would be that Motorman Corkwell of the special car was sleepy.

In explaining his theory Mr. Curtiss cited the fact that the wreck occurred just after the noon lunch, when men are apt to be drowsy, and that the hum of the motor, the swing of the car and the fanning breeze were all conducive of sleep. This, he said, would explain how the cars came so close together before the danger was noticed and why the special passed the switch which it had been ordered to take.

INJURED WAGING A BRAVE BATTLE FOR LIFE

Elenberger Grows Steadily Weaker—Other Victims of the Wreck.

With chances almost hopelessly against them, two of the injured victims of the Kingsland wreck are waging a brave battle for life at St. Joseph's hospital. These are A. Elenberger, of Berne, and Miss Margaret Tribolet, of Bluffton.

That either has been able to survive so long is a marvel both to physicians and nurses. Miss Tribolet still remains in the unconscious condition which has continued unbrokenly since the disaster a week ago. Mr. Elenberger, who was believed to be dying yesterday, still clings to life, but he is perceptibly weaker and physicians can see little basis for hope of his recovery.

Outlook for Others Better.

For the other three victims of the wreck who yet remain in Fort Wayne hospitals the outlook is more favorable. Fred A. Parkhurst, at St. Joseph's hospital, suffering from a broken back, appears to be gaining in strength, is cheerful and declares that he "feels good."

The condition of Motorman Corkwell, at Hope hospital, is little changed from yesterday, though there is apparently a slight gain each day. He is not yet able to talk, and only his relatives are permitted to see him.

Mrs. W. D. Burgan, at Hope hospital, continues to improve, and it is believed she will be able to leave the hospital in something like ten days.

Nearing Normal Condition.

With the departure of the railroad commission from Fort Wayne yesterday the local phase of the wreck investigation ended, and matters about the traction offices are beginning to assume a normal condition after the tremendous strain of the past week. Officials are still giving attention to a multiplicity of details that come as an aftermath of the disaster, and which were forced to await the conclusion of more important matters of a pressing nature. Within a few weeks the company will take up the matter of adjustment of damage claims against it.

The scene of the wreck near Kingsland has a grewsome fascination for passengers who are traveling over the spot, and it is said that trainmen on each car passing are invariably asked to point out the spot at which the disaster occurred.

Says 39 is Total of Dead.

Officials of the traction company today gave out a corrected and revised list of the dead in the Kingsland disaster, which makes a total of thirty-nine persons who were either killed outright or died later from injuries. It is stated that in earlier lists, which the totals ranged from forty to forty-two, were erroneous in the fact that they contained duplications. The list of the dead as tabulated by the traction company's claim department is as follows:

John Reed, Marion.
Mrs. Hiram Falk, Bluffton.
Unknown man, identified as —— Gilbert, of Toledo.
L. C. Justus, Bluffton.
Lloyd Brown, Bluffton.
S. Stucky, Vera Cruz.
W. Beers, Bluffton.

C. M. Brown, Warren.

Eight in Injured List.

Eight are listed as injured. They are Mrs. W. D. Burgan, Bluffton, and B. F. Corkwell, Fort Wayne, at Hope hospital; A. Ellenberger, Berne; Margaret Tribolet, Bluffton, and S. A. Parkhurst, Bluffton, at St. Joseph's hospital, and D. Wilson, Ossian; C. Van Dine, Bluffton, and E. A. Spiller, Bluffton, at their respective homes.

INFANTILE SCOURGE IN INDIANA

Brazil, Ind., Sept. 28.—Seven cases of infantile paralysis, a disease that has been epidemic in many eastern cities, have been found in this city. All of the cases are among children of from eighteen months to two years of age.

SOME REMARKABLE GUNNERY.

San Francisco, Sept. 28.—In weather so foggy that only glimpses of the target could be had the Sixteenth company, coast artillery, commanded by Captain Thomas Q. Washburn made what is regarded as a remarkable record in service practice at Battery Boutelle yesterday. Nine hits out of a possible ten were registered with five-inch rifles at a range of about three miles.

WHITE TRIED TO HUCKSTER STORY

TRIED TO TRAP BILLY LORIMER

Senate Committee Hears a Narrative of the Sordid Side of It.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—Representative Charles A. White, recalled to the witness stand on cross examination before the Lorimer investigating committee, testified today that he wrote to Senator Lorimer in December, 1909, telling of his manuscript, to get the senator to "commit himself concerning doings in the legislature," so that he, White, might use it in his publication of the story.

White insisted that he did not purpose selling the story, but wanted to publish it. He then declared that the contract with the Chicago Tribune did not state the truth entirely.

"The contract states that I offered to sell the manuscript," said White. "That is not true. I protested at the time that I did not offer to sell the story, but only ordered my expenses."

Figured on Contingencies.

In response to further questions White declared that he thought his expenses might be $3,500.

"I did not know what might arise," he said. "I might need counsel."

The witness admitted that he had received $250 for his expenses in addition to the $3,250 called for by the newspaper contract.

After some sparring White admitted he never had received any offer of pay for the story except from the newspaper which published it. He repeatedly insisted that he was paid for his expenses and did not offer the story for sale.

"I sent the manuscript to the Doubleday Page company and told them I would expect my expenses."

Statement to Lorimer Untrue.

White then admitted that his statement in his letter to Senator Lorimer that he had been offered $2.50 a word for his thirty thousand word manuscript, was untrue.

The witness then said that about one-fourth of his manuscript was published in the newspaper. He added that he did not know anybody in the legislature who would corroborate by confession anything in his story. He also said he knew from what legislators said to him that there was corruption in the legislature. This part of his answer was excluded by Chairman Burrows.

White then told of going to State's Attorney John E. Wayman, of Cook county, at the suggestion of the newspaper which published the story and of telling what he knew about the alleged corruption in the legislature.

TRYING TO QUASH.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 28.—Arguments were heard in the Sangamon circuit court this morning by Judge Thompson on the motion to quash the indictment in the case of Senator John S. Broderick, of Chicago, charged with bribing Senator David Holstlaw, of Iuka, for his vote for Lorimer for United States senator.

Broderick was in court and by his side sat Representative Jos. S. Clark, of Vandalia, under indictment on the charge of conspiracy to bribe in awarding the senate and house furnishing contract to the Ford & Johnson company, of Chicago.

LONG ARGUMENTS IN MILLER TRIAL AT AUBURN

No Limit to Oratory and It Will Last Until Next Saturday.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Auburn, Ind., Sept. 28.—For the reason that Judge Best did not limit the time of the attorneys for argument of the Miller murder trial it is not likely that the case will go to the jury before Saturday morning. An hour will be necessary for the submission of the instructions after the oratory has ceased, as the state has asked for 123 and the defense for forty.

Judge R. K. Erwin, chief counsel for the prisoner, opened his argument this afternoon and will probably consume the remainder of the day and may run into the night if the judge continues his plan of holding after-supper sessions in order to save time and to permit the jurors to finish up and return to their homes.

County Attorney Hubert Hartman opened for the state and was succeeded by Deputy Prosecutor Harry Hilgemann, of Allen county, who consumed four hours in placing his side of the case before the jury.

Night sessions of the court will serve to hasten the end of the trial, which has been a long one and which has greatly tired the men in the jury box.

DEMOCRATS ARE HIGH IN THE AIR

Gaynor's Withdrawal from Consideration Mixes the Situation.

HIS NOMINATION SEEMED ASSURED

Edward M. Shepard and Herman Rider Now Talked of for Place.

Rochester, Sept. 28.—The sudden and unexpected scratching of Mayor Gaynor's name from the list of gubernatorial candidates, where, by almost common opinion, he held first place, leaves the democratic leaders here for tomorrow's convention confronting a problem.

"We can win with any clean man," said one of the New York men this morning, "but with Gaynor we should have cleaned up the state."

The followers of Congressman Sulzer laid stress on his strength with the laboring classes. The banner stretched at his headquarters at the Seneca hotel reads "The workingmen's choice."

Thomas Osborne's friends are putting him forward as the prime exponent of the "New democracy" and the most logical candidate in view of the importance which the platform will attach to the charges of republican misrule and corruption.

A similar claim is made by the backers of Congressman James S. Havens.

Shephard Talked Of.

There was decidedly more discussion today over the availability of Edward M. Shephard. It was said the New York attorney had refrained from pushing his candidacy only because he agreed that Mayor Gaynor should head the ticket.

The most important planks in the platform will have to do with direct nominations, tariff reforms and denunciation of "Rooseveltism" or the new "nationalism." It looks as if the democratic platform builders were determined to go the republican carpenters one better so far as the direct nomination question is concerned. Forecasts of the platform declare the direct nominations clause will be radical.

The state committee will meet this evening. One of the changes it will recommend to the convention is the increase of its own membership by making the basis of representation the assembly instead of the senatorial districts raising the membership to 150 instead of 51.

Three Are Spoken Of.

The names of Edward M. Shephard, of New York, James S. Havens, of Rochester, and Herman Ridder, of New York, occurred most often today in the corridor discussions of candidates for first place on the ticket which the democratic state convention will place in nomination Friday. Their

CITY STREETS GLOW WITH COLORS OF SHRINERS

Gay-Hued Decorations Now Blossoming Out on Every Hand.

Fort Wayne's down town streets are blossoming out in a riot of attractive color, and the gay-hued decorations of the Mystic Shrine are being hung everywhere in preparation for the coming of the nobles for the mardi gras next week.

A big force of decorators is at work on the job, and many thousands of yards of red, yellow and green bunting, with fyriad of flags bearing the star and the crescent will be used before the decorative scheme is complete. Advance indications point to the fact that the city will be more elaborately decorated than for any previous gathering in the history of Fort Wayne. Across the streets at many points the electrical decorations are also in position and the route of the big pageant will be a literal fairyland.

Information today from Indianapolis is a positive assurance that as a result of the visit of E. W. Puckett to Murat temple, there will not only be a complete Indianapolis delegation here, but that the famous Arab patrol and nomad band will also be in line for the pageant. Announcement is also made that candidates who have been elected to receive the Shrine degree at the coming session will register at headquarters precisely as do the visiting nobles, and they will receive the same courtesies extended to those already members.

THE WEATHER.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—Illinois—Fair tonight and Thursday; warmer Thursday.

Indiana—Fair tonight and Thursday; light variable winds, mostly southwest and west.

Ohio—Fair tonight and Thursday; light west winds, becoming variable.

Lower Michigan—Fair tonight and Thursday; slightly warmer in north portions tonight; light southwest and west winds.

TIMSON WILL BE HEAD OF TICKET

diate and searching inquiry into all corrupt practices and this inquiry is now going forward vigorously. We pledge its continuance, with additional authority, if required, and that all such wrongdoing capable of exposure shall be brought to light, to the end that the guilty shall oe punished and the innocent relieved of unjust suspicions. Dishonesty in public service is next to treason, the most flagrant of crimes. In ridding our institutions of this cancer growth, we know no party distinction. The crimes which have been committed have involved members of both parties, and the fact that some of the wrongdoers have masqueraded under the name of republicans never has gained nor ever shall gain them immunity from punishment by republicans. Not only have they wronged the people, but they have proved themselves the worst enemies of the party. The crook and grafter and unfaithful man in public service shall be put out and kept out.

National Administration.

We enthusiastically endorse the patriotic and statesmanlike leadership of Wm. Howard Taft and declare our pride in the achievements of his first eighteen months as president of the United States. Each succeeding month since his inauguration has confirmed the nation in its high estimate of his greatness of character, intellectual ability, sturdy common sense, extraordinary patience and perseverance, broad and statesmanlike comprehension of public questions and unfaltering and unswerving adherence to duty.

Under his administration the prosecution of those implicated in the sugar and other customs frauds has been continued and convictions obtained; there have been impartial and energetic enforcement of the Sherman anti-trust act; a substantial reduction of governmental expenses; the establishment of better business methods, which will result in greater efficiency and real economy; remarkable progress in the construction of the Panama canal and the withdrawal from private entry of over 71,000,000 acres of the public domain to preserve for public benefit, valuable inerals and other deposits, timber land and water power sites.

The Tariff.

The Payne tariff law reduced the average rate of all duties eleven per cent.

By increasing the duties on some luxuries and articles not of ordinary use, making, however, no increase on any common food product, it turned a national deficit into a surplus. Under its first year or operation the value of imports free of duty was the greatest in our history by $100,000,000 and the average rate of duty was less than under the Wilson law. Unlike that democratic law, its great reductions of duty have not stopped industry nor deprived labor of any part of its hire. It gives free trade with the Philippine islands and it establishes a customs court. Its maximum and minimum rates give us for the first time equality of opportunity with other nations in our foreign trade.

In providing upon the suggestion of President Taft for a tariff board, it affords the means of still more accurately determining the difference in cost of production at home and abroad.

To avoid disturbance of business, we urge the adoption by the congress of a joint rule of the two houses recommended by the president and leaders in congress by which the two houses could consider a single schedule or a single paragraph of the tariff without the necessity for amendment which would lead to a general revision.

Record of Congress.

The congress has responded to recommendations of the president by enacting measures of far-reaching importance to the people including valuable amendments to the inter-state commerce law, a postal savings bank law, a law providing for the publicity of campaign expenses, the creation of a bureau of mines with a view to the better protection of mine workers, laws extending the regulation of safety appliances and the law by which the surface coal lands and other mineral lands is made available for agricultural use, while conserving the minerals under the surface for the public benefit.

The right of the president to withdraw public lands for conservation purposes has been set at rest by legislation and the completion of irrigation projects is assured by the authorization of $20,000,000 bonds.

The Courts.

The test of civilization is an orderly and efficient government, one of the essentials of which is a judiciary of upright, able, industrious, courageous men promptly administering the law to rich and poor alike, without fear or favor and protecting the individual in his rights and liberties against the injustice of the mob, as well as against the greed of the powerful. We count it fortunate that the president has secured as a member of our highest tribunal a man with the great intellectual power and the splendid legal attainments of Charles E. Hughes.

Governor Hughes' Administration.

We congratulate the people on the notable progress of the state under the four years' administration of Gov. Hughes, which has been conspicuous for the highest standards of efficiency.

Labor and Capital.

The record of republican legislation during the past eighteen years in conserving the public interest by improving the condition of labor is unequalled in our history. One hundred and sixty such enactments were written in our statutes, covering the whole range of labor's interests in the workshops, factories, mines and quarries and upon all forms of public work. We believe that capital honestly employed should be permitted to feel that sense of security essential to stimulate legitimate investment and thus safeguard the prosperity which has been so well established under republican administration.

Conservation.

In the interests of the growth and prosperity of the state, we favor the conservation, development and utilization of all our natural resources, under conditions, however, which will protect and safeguard the rights of the state.

Preventing Primary Frauds.

We believe that the same safeguards should surround primary elections as have been shown to be effective in preventing repeating and frauds at general elections. We, therefore, favor extending the signature law, as now applied to general elections, to primary elections.

Direct Nominations.

To Gov. Hughes is due the credit of arousing the interest of the people and convincing them of the need of directly electing their party officers and directly nominating their party candidates. We promise legislation which will enact these principles into law.

We appeal with confidence to the intelligence and patriotism of the people for the endorsement of this platform and the election of the candidates of this convention.

Minority Report is Moved.

Speaker Wadsworth moved a minority report which he said contained a substitute for the direct primary plank in the majority report.

Jacob Gould Schurman, president of Cornell university, asked that the following sentence be added to the majority report:

"It being understood that the delegate conventions may be retained and that candidates for assemblymen and senators shall at the earliest possible date be selected by direct nominations."

A motion to limit the debate on the platform to two hours was carried, whereupon many spectators and some of the delegates left the hall.

Chairman Root announced that the amendment proposed by Mr. Wadsworth was lost, the vote being 403 for the amendment and 606 against it. The majority report was then adopted viva voce.

Roosevelt Is Heard.

After General Stewart L. Woodford had spoken for the majority and E. L. Merritt, republican leader of the assembly, for the minority report, Col. Roosevelt took the platform in advocacy of the majority report. He said: "We have now come to the vital moment in this convention and now by your votes you are to determine whether the republican party in the state of New York is to be the party of progress or the party of the reactionary.

"And in the first place let me correct one or two misapprehensions as to fact. The system of direct nominations has not been abandoned in other states of the union. I have listened to gentlemen here holding up the republicans of the west as people whose example we should avoid. In my republicanism I know neither east nor west. I have lived in the west and I know them through and through. I have seen direct primaries working there in the west.

Makes a Point of Wisconsin.

"The allusion has been made to the state of Wisconsin. They have just held direct primaries in Wisconsin. All the money was used against the side that won the overwhelming fight, and the side that won spent an amount of money that you would hardly consider as being adequate to run a congressional campaign in the state of New York."

Here the colonel was interrupted by laughter and cries of "oh."

"Exactly," he continued with emphasis amid more laughter and cheers.

"An allusion has been made to the case of Congressman Sibley. Great sums were spent and improperly spent in securing the nomination of Congressman Sibley. They were spent in influencing a direct primary just as they would have been spent in influencing a convention.

"The difference was—" and again the colonel was interrupted, this time by mingled cheers and hisses.

"I will give you a chance to express your dissent again," retorted the ex-president.

The Difference.

"The difference was that Mr. Sibley wont be a congressman, whereas he would have been if they had not had direct primaries."

"Good for you, Teddy," came from the gallery.

"The gentlemen who present the minority report say that they reprtsent the republican tradition. They represent a majority of the legislature composed of the majority of democratic members and the minority of the republican party."

Here the convention broke into applause. Flags were waved, the band played and it was several minutes before the colonel continued.

GRAND JURY'S WORK LIKELY TO BE PROLONGED

Inquiry at Bluffton Will Probably Continue Several Days.

[Special to The Sentinel.]

Bluffton, Ind., Sept. 28.—From indications today it is likely that the investigation by the Wells county grand jury into the wreck at Kingsland will extend over a further period of three or four days. The witnesses today were not believed to be of an important character, but the prosecuting attorney declares he wants to go thoroughly into the case, but no hint as to probable action regarding indictments is of course available.

Coroner Thoma is continuing his inquest, and the belief here is that this may be concluded today or tomorrow. There were rumors yesterday that the coroner might order arrests in the case, but nothing of this nature had developed up to noon today.

Shane Before Grand Jury.

When the state railroad commission reached this city yesterday afternoon a subpoena was served upon Chief Inspector A. A. Shane, and that official appeared before the grand jury. Neither of the commissioners was subpoenaed.

The commission stopped for some time at the scene of the wreck, and in this city took the testimony of Conductor Spiller and Motorman Van-Dine, of the north-bound car. The belief is prevalent here that the commission in its report will place the blame for the accident upon Motorman Corkwell and Conductor Wilson for over-running orders, and that some criticism may be given the traction company for running cars of the type of the north-bound car in the wreck, which is said to have been antiquated.

Before returning its finding the commission will hold a meeting at Indianapolis to canvass the evidence it collected.

L. A. Williamson, president of the Wells County bank, will permit his name being placed on the democratic county ticket for auditor, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Seymour Robinson.

If elected he will furnish his own bond and place the office in charge of a competent deputy and the entire proceeds, less the deputy's salary, will be paid over to the widow of Mr. Robinson, who was killed in the traction wreck. The county being democratic, there is no question of his election.

relative chances appeared to rank in the order of mention.

If a New York city man gets the nomination the leaders seem to be agreed upon Thomas M. Osborne, of Auburn, for lieutenant governor.

Herbert P. Bissell, of Buffalo, is the choice for permanent chairman although his appointment will not be officially announced until the convention organizes tomorrow.

Alton B. Parker, who will be temporary chairman of the convention and deliver the keynote speech arrived this morning.

GAYNOR WOULD NOT ACCEPT.

New York, Sept. 28.—James Creelman, of New York, made public yesterday a letter from Mayor Gaynor. Mr. Creelman decided on this step because he became convinced yesterday that nothing but this action would prevent Mr. Gaynor's nomination by the democratic state convention. The letter follows:

"St. James, Sept. 26.—Dear Mr. Creelman: I am this day writing a letter to Chairman Dix stating that I am not a candidate for nomination for governor and refuse to become such. I do this to remove all doubt on the subject which may have arisen by reason of irresponsible statements which I am informed are being circulated.

"No utterance of mine has put the matter in doubt. Some have said to me that the convention may nominate me, although I am not a candidate. It seems to me that it might appear vain or egotistical for me to assume in my letter to Mr. Dix that that extraordinary thing might happen. I therefore write this supplemental letter to you to take to Rochester and show there so as to prevent my nomination if it should appear to be imminent.

"Make it plain that if nominated I would decline to accept. I could not abandon to their fate the splendid men whom I have appointed to office and who are working so hard for good government, nor could I abandon the people of the city of New York after so short a service. You may make this letter public in advance of going to Rochester if in your judgment you think the situation calls for it. But do not do so unless it be plainly necessary. Every honest man will understand me.

"W. J. GAYNOR.

"James Creelman, Esq."

RECORD IS FAILURE TO KEEP TARIEF PROMISES

Congressman Cline Points to Shortcomings of Republicans.

Opening his speaking campaign in Allen county Tuesday evening before a very large audience at the Lafayette Center schoolhouse, Congressman Cline devoted his attention almost entirely to the tariff question, pointing out the fact that republican performance had been clearly and squarely a violation of party promises and pledges to the people who had entrusted to that party the work of righting tariff wrongs.

Both Mr. Cline and Carl Yaple, democratic nominee for judge of the superior court, were given a warm welcome. Mr. Yaple, who was the first speaker, gave some attention to the Winona speech of the president and cited the present attitude of the president as an apparent complete reversal of sentiment from the position he then assumed.

"The great president of the United States," said Mr. Cline in part, "tells the people that there has been a substantial revision and that the party has kept its promise; that the Payne-Aldrich bill is the best tariff measure ever written in the statute. The people do not agree with him. Multiplicity of statements of that character do not change the facts. The people want to believe Mr. Taft wants to be a good president, but he has surrounded himself with bad men and bad corporations, that control him. His personality is lost in the association he has chosen. The people are charitable and willing to assist the president to give us a good government, but in doing so, he must divorce himself from those agencies and interests that have entrenched themselves in power and assume that the government exists for their especial benefit and for the people afterwards."

A number of the county candidates spoke briefly during the evening. They were Calvin Brown, nominee for auditor; J. Herman Bueter, candidate for treasurer; W. E. Gerding, nominee for clerk, and William Eggeman, candidate for assessor.

Beveridge Here October 20.

Announcement is made that Senator Albert J. Beveridge will address a republican meeting at Princess rink in this city on Thursday evening, October 20. An overflow meeting will be held at the court house assembly room, where Senator Beveridge will also be heard.

The use of hardness testing devices on rolled brass is referred to by the Brass World. Brass is rolled in many different tempers. Usually, when a sample of sheet brass is sent in so that an order to be filled may match it, bending or scratching is resorted to to determine its temper, the result often being only a guess. The hardness testing methods used with steel are beginning to be employed for brass, but the ability to determine the temper of a sample of brass is not yet well recognized.

CARNAHAN CLAIM IS SETTLED OUT OF COURT

Accepts $275 for His Suit Case and Clothes—Court News.

After a day spent in the trial of the suit of Robert H. Carnahan against the Fort Wayne Transfer company, the attorneys affected a compromise under which a settlement was made by the payment of $275. He made claim for $600.

The action is the one that grew out of the loss in June, 1909, of a suit case containing Mr. Carnahan's clothing and was contested on the ground that the company was liable only for the market value of the lost articles and under the law that a common carrier can be held accountable only for the necessities of the ordinary traveler in cases where luggage is lost.

Grants a Decree.

W. C. Ryan, as special judge, heard the evidence of Julia A. Mentzer against William Mentzer and granted her a divorce and the custody of their child, with $500 alimony. The principals live at Monroeville.

Court Notes.

Anna Van Horn, whose husband has been in the city court for some time in answer to an affidavit charging him with desertion, entered suit for divorce. He is charged with failure to provide and the allegation is made that he permitted three of his children to be sent to the county orphanage.

The will of Mrs. Margaret Mitchell has been filed for probate in the circuit court. She leaves all of her property to her two daughters, Anna and Mary, because they lived with her and cared for her. Kerr Murray Mitchell and Margaret Monroe McPhail are named as executors.

ADDITIONAL SOCIETY

Mrs. J. C. Wilson, of 1042 Glasgow avenue, has been called to Reed City, Mich., by the serious illness of her father.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Schwab, of Arapaho, Okla., who had been visiting their aunt, Mrs. Alfred Durnell, have gone to Lima and Sandusky, Ohio., to visit friends and relatives in those cities. Mrs. Durnell had not seen her nephew before in eighteen years, and the visit was a surprise.

All the ladies who have accompanied the doctors here for the Indiana Medical association meeting will be tendered a reception and musicale this evening at 8 o'clock at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. Budd Van Sweringen. In the receiving line will be, besides the hostess of the evening, Mrs. T. C. Kennedy, of Indianapolis, whose husband is president of the association; Mrs. E. M. Van Buskirk, of this city, wife of the secretary of the association, and Dr. Jessie C. Calvin, chairman of the ladies' entertainment committee. In the rooms assisting the ladies who receive will be the wives and daughters of all local physicians who belong to the Allen County Medical society. Tomorrow there will be an automobile ride about the city for the ladies and a luncheon at the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Bulson at 1 o'clock.

Stewart—Riddle.

(Columbia City Post.)

Mr. Cleveland Stewart, of Fort Wayne and Miss Lillie Riddle, of Merriam, were wedded Saturday at Albion, and will reside in Fort Wayne, where the groom is employed by the Perfection Biscuit Co. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Hark Leamon, of Thorncreek township, and is well known as a school teacher, and a reliable, energetic young man. His bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Riddle at Merriam, and they have the hearty congratulations of their Whitley county friends.

COUNCIL WILL HAVE TO REVISE ITS FIGURES

Increases Made at Last Night's Meeting Are Illegal.

As soon as the appropriation ordinances have been signed by the mayor, the city council will have to straighten out two illegal increases made by it last night when the measures were passed as the additions to the street lighting fund and the police pay roll are not authorized by law.

The law provides that all estimates may be reduced by the council and all may be disallowed, but none can be increased unless the consent of the city controller shall have been obtained before the ordinances carrying advances are passed.

Last night the council increased the lighting appropriation from $29,150 to $31,800 in order that new street lamps may be added and ran the police pay roll account up from $46,760 to $47,460. In the opinion of City Attorney H. G. Hogan this will not invalidate the entire appropriations and the levy but will effect only these two items which will revert to the amounts allowed last year.

The mayor will have to sign the ordinance before Saturday and there will be no time to make changes, so as soon as this formality has been complied with the council can pass appropriations sufficient to fix the funds at the amount desired.

The youngest divorced couple in the world is to be found in the court of Abyssinia, so we learn from a Paris contemporary. On May 16 of last year the Princess Romanic Onosk was married to the Prince Lidj Eyassu, the heir apparent, the bride then being eight years old and the bridegroom fourteen. Now they have been divorced. It is not a question of fault on either side, no incompatibility of temper, none of the causes which figure so frequently in our divorce division. The princess happens to be the niece of the Empress Taitu, and this lady is not popular with the regents of the country. So to prevent the empress exercising any baneful influence upon the future ruler's wife, the statesmen have required the prince to divorce her.—London Globe.

BIG FIGHT IS RAGING FOR FEDERATION PRESIDENCY

County Option Issue Gets Into Action at the Lafayette Meeting.

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 28.—Election of officers was the principal feature of today's session of the Indiana State Federation of labor. The election was set for late this afternoon. John Hughes, the present president, was an active candidate for re-election and Edgar A. Perkins, former president, had a strong following in his race for the presidency.

B. F. Horton, of Indianapolis, was a third candidate. Federation politics fairly hummed all day.

At the morning session today delegates from the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative union extended the hand of fellowship to the state federation and were cordially received. The two organizations will seek co-operation at once.

County option repeal found its way into this morning's meeting in the form of two resolutions introduced by the Cigarmakers' union, declaring for the repeal of the county option law on the ground that it is having a very injurious effect on many industries and has not been successful in decreasing the evils of drunkenness. There will be a fight on the question of adoption.

Child labor, employers' liability and convict labor were topics discussed.

ENEMIES OF CONSERVATION.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 28.—One of the resolutions presented to the resolutions committee of the American mining congress for consideration today calls upon the federal congress to repeal the law segregating coal lands and to instruct the president to abrogate the withdrawal orders he has issued affecting such lands.

The law, it is asserted, is "rank socialism, it impairs the value of the millions already invested in the mining industry, and not only destroys the miners' hope of fortune, but makes it impossible for him to secure the necessary capital to develop his claims."

Another resolution considered today has for its object the elimination of mining "wildcats." It proposes that the national bureau of mines require from mining companies periodical reports, giving all the information regarding their business and financial affairs that could be desired by the careful investor.

The Root Juice Sensation Continues

AS SO MANY PEOPLE ARE PRAISING IT.

Wonderful things are happening here these days. The new medicine, Root Juice, is certainly doing great good for many of this locality. People are calling from every direction to report much improvement, after using the great remedy a short while. Many come from the country to get some of the remedy, and those who have used a bottle or so are very enthusiastic in praise of it. A. Strait said: "I came after some of that wonderful Root Juice because my neighbor, Mrs. Ben Goodwin, has been taking it, and she, after taking six bottles of Root Juice, looks ten years younger. The great improvement is very noticeable to all of her friends." Lorenzo Staley said: "My wife suffered a long time with stomach, liver and kidney troubles, rheumatism and pains and aches all over her body. She was very nervous and her general system was all run down. Her troubles were treated for months without relief. She had almost given up hope of ever being any better. When she started with Root Juice we had but little faith, but after taking three bottles of the juice, we could notice that she was improving. She has used just nine bottles of the medicine, and her pains and aches are all gone. She eats like a pig and digests everything she eats. She is now a well woman, thanks to Root Juice. We can't say too much in praise of it."

We are told that the Root Juice Medicine Company, of Fort Wayne, Ind., freely gives information to all that write for it. Bradley Bros. drug store is doing a rushing business with it.

PRESIDENT WILL BE FRIENDLY TO THE INSURGENTS

Will Utter Indorsement in His Speech to Be Made Next Saturday.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 28.—The hope of the progressive republicans that President Taft will come out with an unmistakable indorsement of their successful congressional candidates is to be fulfilled, according to information eminating today from the white house.

At the dinner of the League of Republican clubs in New York next Saturday night the president, it is said, will declare his entire sympathy with the principles of the progressive republicans if not asserting that personally he has been a progressive all along.

The intimation of the intention of the president to come out strongly in support of the progressives also carries with it the hint that in no uncertain terms he will indicate it to be the desire of the head of the republican party that the old line regulars cease their threats of knifing the ticket and get into the progressive band wagon.

Will Tolerate No Knifing.

Mr. Taft is to let it be known that he will tolerate no conduct on the part of regulars or insurgents except the unqualified support of the republican candidates nominated in primaries and conventions.

This is exactly the sort of a pronouncement desired by the leaders of the progressives. If the president makes his statement strong enough it will have the effect, it is believed, of calling off many of the regulars, who openly have been plotting the slaughter of victorious progressive candidates.

Will Please the Most Radical.

The president has written the speech which he will deliver at the New York gathering. Unless it has been toned down it contains, according to report, an indorsement of the progressives which cannot fail to please even the most radical and which will send many a regular scurrying into the progressive wagon.

It is said that the speech conveys the intimation that Taft always has been a progressive and that he threw in his lot with the Cannon-Aldrich reactionary outfit in congress because it controlled legislation and was in a position to put through the presidential program.

According to one source of information the president will make the statement that the progressive movement represents the effort of the people to free themselves from the domination of predatory wealth and in that particular he is in hearty sympathy with the cause.

PIGEON FLIES WITH TRAIN.

For Some Weeks the Bird Has Been Making Regular Trips.

(Arkansas Gazette.)

The pigeon that for the last month or more has been running with the Iron Mountani crews between Malvern and Arkadelphia has extended its run and now makes the trip from Walco to Gurdon, a distance of thirty-four miles.

A brakeman who made the trip over the division this week reported at the union station that the pigeon made the down trip with his train, joining the crew at Walco and leaving them at Gurdon, which was the farthest point south it had been known to go previously.

For the last four or five weeks this pigeon has been flying along with the Iron Mountain trains. Some of the trainmen are said to regard it as a hoodoo and fear that its presence portends some disaster to them, but as yet no accident has happened to a crew while the bird was along. Others look upon the pigeon as a pet and are always glad to have it join them on a trip.

The trainmen say that the bird almost always flies just ahead of the engine, about on a level with the headlight. On the last trip Engineer Golleher, who was in the cab, tried to overtake it, but it was no use—the pigeon always stayed just ahead. On this trip, when the train stopped at Arkadelphia for water, the bird flew out to one side and rested in a tree until the fireman rang his beel for the start, when it resumed its p lace just in front of the headlight, flying aat a suitable speed to remain about the same distance ahead, whether the train was going slow or fast.

Home Masonic lodge last evening conferred the master degree upon four candidates.

GREAT SINKS IN FLORIDA.

Another Added Recently to the Chain Caused By Subterranean River.

(Gainesville, Fla., Sun.)

Another sink on Alachua lake, just across f rom the chain of sinks south of the city, developed recently. When first discovered the new sink was not more than ten or fifteen feet in diameter, but it spread very rapidly during the morning hours, and by the arrival of the Leesburg passenger train it had grown to about forty feet, one large chunk of earth following after another in rapid succession, and the ground cracking for a space of several feet around the entire hole.

At about noon the place presented a rather interesting scene, for at this time the great loads of earth were rolling in at intervals, and with them the water would boil and sizzle as though it was hot iron being struck in place. The great pool also resembled the waves of the seas, sometimes being greater than at others, and up to last night the earth was still falling.

Reports from the place last night were to the effect that the hole had covered a distance of 135 feet, running north and south, while from the east to west bank the distance is fully 100 feet.

This sink developed some 200 yards this side of the one that occurred there a few years ago, when a local freight train with many cars fell to the bottom of the place, but fortunately there was no water in this one and it was easily filled up and is used today the same as the old roadbed.

Just how deep the water in this new place is cannot be estimated with any degree of accuracy, for during the forenoon a large tree that was fully thirty or more feet tall was in the middle of the place, and in the afternoon it had disappeared as though nothing but a bottomless hole was there to receive anything that came its way.

There are a number of old sinks in the vicinity, but the new one is larger than any of the others.

New York, Sept. 28.—Robert Winthrop Chanler, the terms of whose prenuptial agreement with Mme. Lina Cavalieri, the singer, recently provoked much comment and have led to involved litigation, must pay his tailor, William Barnes, $1,062. The money is in satisfaction of a judgment obtained by Barnes in the city court and filed in the county clerk's office today. If Chanler doesn't pay his property will be subject to levy by the sheriff of Neww York and Dutchess counties.

CONDEMNS CROWDED SCHOOL.

Health Officers Assert Logansport Building Violates State Law.

Logansport, Ind., Sept. 28.—Acting on instructions from Dr. Hurty, of the state health board, Dr. J. P. Nicodemus, secretary of the county board of health and Charles Miller, city health officer, today took measurements of the city high school building and then notified the city school board that the building is overcrowded and the congested condition must be relieved at once or prosecution will follow. Dr. Hurty instructed the local officials that the law requires 225 cubic feet of space be allotted each pupil and on this basis the local high school building is overcrowded to the number of eighty-three pupils. The school board has called a meeting for Friday, at which an effort will be made to purchase a building which can be used for temporary school purposes until a new one can be erected.

FORT WAYNE'S GUESTS.

Fort Wayne for a day or two will be host to two distinguished bodies of Indiana citizens. The Indiana State Medical association and the County Commissioners' association have come and they are none the less welcome because they have come together.

It is now more than fourteen years since the State Medical association has honored Fort Wayne by holding its annual convention here, but the occasion of that last visit is still well remembered for the distinguished array of medical scientists it brought together in this city. That convention had professional and scientific progress to report to the world and no less so will this be true of this year's congress of the Indiana doctors. These great conventions are profitable, and are more profitable to general humanity than to the physicians. Fort Wayne welcomes them heartily and while witness to great progress in medical science hopes the doctors themselves will be able to note some progress in Fort Wayne.

The county commissioners of Indiana are a body of men who are as close to the vital concerns of the people as public servants well can be. Their discussions here will deal with means and measures for improving the public welfare and raising the efficiency of public money. Among questions to be taken up here is the subject of road-making. Indiana has many miles of good roads—some of them the best in the country; but there is a woeful waste of money in public highway building and maintenance. The Indiana commissioners can address themselves to no public concern of greater importance.

The commissioners of Indiana come to one of the best managed counties in the state—a county of good roads, good bridges, good drainage, good buildings, good people and good public officials. To such examples they are welcomed and to a hospitality that hopes there may be nothing wanting.

SHOULD HAVE CONFERENCE.

It is proposed that at an early date officials of Indiana electric traction railways have a conference for the purpose of considering means to promote security of life on their lines. There is imperative demand of circumstances for such a conference. Within the past week fifty lives have been snuffed out by traction disasters in this state. Not impressed by the horror at Kingsland on Wednesday, a train crew on another railroad on Saturday committed a fatal blunder exactly similar, with consequences in no wise different save in the number of dead.

There is need that the electric traction men of Indiana get together and solemnly undertake to find a way that will make the lives of their passengers reasonably safe. The governor and the state railway commission should meet with them and there should be not only the adoption of such rules of operation as may seem to the wisdom of such a conference necessary, but a legislative program for crystalizing into statute law such measures of security as are approved. This ought to be the inevitable result of such a conference as is proposed.

Indiana is not behind other states in the character of her laws for the regulation of railway traffic, but there has come upon her tragic need that she look to improvement. There must be devised and enforced a better system of running trains, the efficiency and morale of train employes and dispatchers must be raised, specially dangerous curves must be modified and regulations concerning the employment of men in periods of consecutive hours and not by the vicious "split run" system must by law be enjoined.

Statute law is not going to remove the element of accident from human existence, but it can compel such preventive measures as reason and at least a decent regard for human life make imperative.

Hon. James Schoolcraft Sherman, vice president of the United States, never was much, but he certainly has the aspect today of much less. Mr. Sherman made the mistake of supposing that he is representing modern public sentiment and political aspirations; that as standpatter and reactionary no less than as the foremost representative of machine politics he was on the stronger and the winning side. He knows much better and he ought to have known it much sooner—soon enough, indeed, to have enabled him to get something firm and thick between his head and the big stick. Nothing can deprive Mr. Sherman of the vice presidency and he will go along with that and its sedate destinctions for some two and a half years to come. But he may as well have his political epitaph fitted to him at once—unless, like his more perspicacious and adroit chief, he confesses the breaking of the light, the dawning of a new day, and exalt insurgency.

A deal of speculation is being wasted on the folly of "Bob" Chanler and the cause of it. Sheriff Chanler simply made the same different kinds of a fool of himself that all men make who become enmeshed in the snares of beautiful and designing women. The Italian singer knew what she wanted and got it. If Chanler has fulfilled his intent when he made his property over to her she will keep it and the eminent gentleman who so ably acquitted himself in the duties of the Dutchess county shrievalty will add one more unit to the accumulated burden of proof of the transient relation a fool bears to his money.

The intrepid aviator who flew over the Alps is dead with his glory still fresh upon him. It was a stirring achievement and everywhere there must be sentiments of real pity for the hapless youth whom fate mocked by passing him safely over the most tremendous perils of his journey and then striking him down when the way had come to seem easy. Chavez will have his place in history of man-flying along with the Wrights, who first flew; with Blerlot, who crossed the English channel the first time; with Curtiss, Brookins, Rolls, Fanihan and the others who have demonstrated that man can fly.

Congressman Cline has inaugurated his campaign in Allen county and as he progresses with it he will find an uncommonly friendly feeling for him throughout the community. Mr. Cline has been a hard worker and most courteous and responsive servant of his constituents. He will make a thorough canvass of the county during the next month.

Senator Beveridge has opened his campaign and there will not be nothing inappropriate in the coming forth of Hon. James E. Watson with his silver tongue cutting loose for his mighty good friend and for the cause of insurgency.

President Taft is going to join the progressives. What a manager the colonel is, to be sure.

THE PROGRESS IN MEDICINE.

In Fifty Years Great Strides Have Been Made in Increasing Health of Man.

(Boston Herald.)

From most, if not quite, every viewpoint there is unquestionably much difference between the medicine of fifty or sixty years ago and the medicine of today—medicine in the sixth decade of the nineteenth century and medicine in the first decade of the twentieth century.

In other days, in this country at least, upon a fair English education, a recognized preceptor's non-sworn certificate of three years' study, friendly evidence of moral character, two four months' terms of lectures at a chartered school and a perfunctory examination, the M. D. was generally obtainable by all free men; now, with legal standards constantly advancing, the full equivalent of a high school training, non-biased evidence of four years' study and good morals, four eight months' courses, some clinic experience and many strict examinations are rulably demanded therefor.

Then very few, if, indeed, any, legal restrictions here existing, all free nongraduates might unrestrainedly practice the country over, a medical diploma usually evidencing only collegiate recognition of professional fitness; now, while neither medical teaching nor clinic experience, to say naught of any diplomas, is often prerequisite, every state carefully registers under divers enactments all practitioners.

Then diagnosis was necessarily inferred for the most part from subjective symptoms; now, through precise instruments that explore every organ, it is easily based in the main on objective.

Then blistering and bleeding, salivating and sweating and purging, however hostile, were everywhere and everywise employed; now mild medicaments, energizing electricity and palatable pharmacals, conservedly chosen, are unreservedly and understandingly used.

Then instrumental surgery, especially plastic, caval and orthopedic, was decidedly limited; now every part is operatively treated with marked success.

Then the insane were quelled chiefly by mechanical restraint; now they are governed by moral suasion.

Then specialists were few; now they are many. Then medical—or, far better, medico-legal—experts were really respected; now they are sadly suspected.

Then artificial anesthesia, but recently discovered, was hardly known to most; now ether and chloroform, for their well known uses in surgery and midwifery, are fairly appreciated by many, and the marvelous compound of hyocin, morphine and cactin, which, though just introduced, is widely administered.

But enough, doubtless, for the intelligent. Medically, at least, the world has been remade within fifty years, as is well evidenced by the increasing health and longevity of man.

CONTRACTS HELD UP FOR MEN TO DO THE WORK

Employers Are Unable to Secure Labor for Public Work.

Members of the board of works have been calling the contractors on public works into the office for several days and demanding that they rush the contracts in their hands, but have been met with the statement that there is not sufficient labor to be obtained and for that reason they can not make the progress they would like.

Trippeer & Son, who have the city part of the track elevation work, could use fifty men and they say they have advertised here and in papers in other towns, but have not been able to recruit their force up to sufficient numbers to make the progress they want.

This complaint is general and this is the real cause of delay in finishing up the work all over the city. Good wages are being paid by the contractors, but they seem to be unable to find men who want work bad enough to earn from 20 to 22 cents an hour.

Will Open Up Bids.

The board of public safety announced last night that it would open bids for an auto patrol wagon on October 11. The question of buying an auto chemical engine for No. 3 fire station was also considered, but no action taken.

TRIBAL MURDER.

San Bernardino, Cal., Sept. 25.—Altograsno Lugo, descendant of a former Indian chief, was found murdered yesterday on a roadway. Her head was nearly severed and strange figures had been slashed on her body. Manuel Valencia, last seen with the woman near the spot where the body was found, is held as a suspect.

BEVERIDGE SOUNDS HIS KEYNOTE OF CAMPAIGN

Senator Begins His Spellbinding With Speech in Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 28.—Senator Albert J. Beveridge last night started the republicans of Indiana on their campaign of 1910. He pledged the party anew to the doctrines adopted by the state convention several months ago.

Throughout his speech the senator was merciless to the interests, which he insisted have been controlling legislation for years. When he said he had refused to surrender to the combination that pushed through the Aldrich tariff bill, a shout went up that shook the building.

His arraignment of the democratic senators and congressmen who refused to stand by their own partyy and who went to the limit of attempting to shut off the debate on the tariff bill also was cheered.

Refers to Illinois Corruption.

Nearing the close, when he defied the big coroporate interests, in which he included the tobacco trust, to attempt to pollute the voters and legislature of Indiana, the display of feeling was intense. Probably there has been no more significant incident in the history of the republican party of Indiana in the last quarter of a century than the demonstration which marked Mr. Beveridge's statement that "Indiana in 1911 will not be the Illinois of 1909."

"This is the war of the citizen—the war of the citizen against the giant interests that wrong him," said Mr. Beveridge. Then he charged the democrats with being controlled by the reactionaries.

"Wall street's masters look favorably on that partyy as now controlled," he said. "George Gould already has joined it openly. The whole present day tendency among democratic politicians is reactionary."

In the present campaign, Mr. Beveridge said, the republicans will appeal to the firesides and not to the dark rooms of the party bosses for guidance. While he declared that "our appeal will be broader than partisan lines," he devoted a great deal of attention to the tariff.

Favors Tariff Commission.

A genuine tariff commission, he declared, would have prevented the injustice to the people contained in the wool schedule of the Aldrich bill. He riddled the wool and cotton schedules and criticised the combination of senators that made the enactment of them possible. The cotton schedule, he asserted, was put through by a bipartisan combination in congress after the cotton manufacturers found out they could get what they wanted.

Explaining the vote of the insurgent senators against the Payne-Aldrich bill, he said:

"We voted against the whole bill which those wrongs polluted, not only as a differencee of economic opinion, but also openly as a matter of moral conviction."

He mentioned Col. Roosevelt for the first time in giving him credit for inaugurating the conservation movement.

Mr. Beveridge's appeal for a national child labor law which the interests, he declared, are fighting, was one of the features of his keynote.

Says Voters Cannot Be Bought.

"It is said great sums of money are coming into Indiana to defeat me," he said in concluding. "I advise the sources of this corruption fund to save their cash. Indiana's voters cannot be bought before election and Indiana's legislature cannot be bought before or after an election.

"Let the interests who are parting with their currency, including the tobacco trust, put that in their pipe and smoke it."

KILLED BY ELECTRIC SHOCK.

Anderson Man Meets Instant Death in Effort to Save Others.

Anderson, Ind., Sept. 28.—George F. Hackleman, 30 years old, was instantly killed early last night when he attempted to remove a live electric wire from the middle of the street where it had been blown by a storm. Hackleman, while on his way home from a fire, noticed the live wire, and, securing a lantern from a neighbor, attempted to cut it down to prevent others from running into it. He tied his handkerchief about the wire before taking hold of it. The 22,000 volts of electricity, however, made the connection through the handkerchief to his hand, and death was instantaneous. Hackleman leaves the widow and four small children.

BLACK HAND OUTRAGE.

New York, Sept. 28.—Friendship for the Italian squad of the detective bureau, of which the late Lieut. Petrosino was formerly in command, is believed to have incited black handers to attempt to assassinate Agnati Rini today by hurling a bomb at him from a housetop. He was shocked into unconsciousness, but escaped fatal injuries. A similar attempt on Rini's life was made three weeks ago.

After a thorough investigation the ingly prevalent among the working classes of London. One phase of the evil is the impregnating of cigarettes with opium, which, the Gazette asserts, "is rampant, especially among the mill girls of Lancashire, who find it irresistible as a solace and means of obtaining temporary relief from the weariness and pain attendant on a life of toil."

GHOST OF JEALOUS WIFE CHEATS OLD MAN'S BRIDE

Widow Charges Medium Used Seances to Move Spouse Against Her.

New York, Sept. 28.—Gray twilight shadows gave a spooky air to the surrogate's courtroom in Brooklyn as there was told the astounding tale of a ghost wife sending from the grave messages of reproach and displeasure. So effectively did she send them that a wealthy old man, dying, cut off from all share in his millions his bride of four months.

Robert H. Thompson, of Brooklyn, was the man. He died last June at the age of 70 years, leaving more than $2,000,000. He was the founder of the Thompson & Norris Corrugated Paper company, with main offices in Brooklyn and branches in Boston, Canada and Englad. In the Boston branch Miss Maybelle Ames was stenographer and confidential agent. There was a courtship of several years, ending in her marriage early this year to Thompson, who was 40 years her senior.

Granddaughter Was Medium.

At Thompson's death it was discovered that his will, made in 1908, left all his property to his sons, J. Linton Thompson and Robert H. Thompson, jr., and to his granddaughter, Mrs. Marion A. Funk. She is the wife of Dr. Merton Funk and niece of Dr. Isaac Funk, the publisher, and is a prominent figure in psychic and spiritualistic research.

It was Mrs. Funk, sitting clad in black in the courtroom, who said that she had acted as a medium between her grandfather and his dead wife. She testified she had transmitted messages to him at the time when his courtship of his stenographer had begun. In these messages the ghost wife scolded him for "lies, deceit and selfishness," and cried: "O, Rob, pray for strength not to let this devil in torment take the strength away from you"—and much more besides.

Mrs. Funk asserted she had discovered her powers as a medium when she was 18 years old, but had not given seances since she married a few years ago. However, shortly before her Aunt Kate, Robert Thompson's sister, died she had learned from the spirit world of the approaching death and on the night her aunt died she received a spirit communication from her.

Widow Naved in Second Will?

Messrs. Sparks and Fuller, the attorneys for Mrs. Maybelle Ames Thompson allege that it was because of a series of seances in which his young granddaughter acted as medium, and gave him messages purporting to come from his dead wife, strongly unfavorable to a second marriage on his part, that Thompson signed the will in which no mention was made of the young woman he was to wed.

They further assert that a second will was made, but that the 1908 will was filed so swiftly they have had no opportunity to find and bring forward the latter document. They say this will was signed in a Brooklyn hotel by Thompson and witnessed by a man named Halffner and another named Doll. It was drawn up a few months before the millionaire's death and bequeathed to his wife exactly half of his fortune.

Before the case came up yesterday the lawyers for Mrs. Thompson got an order for the production by the defendants of a strong box that had belonged to her husband. In this they were certain the new will would be found. It was not. But they found a diary kept by the youthful Mrs. Funk. She recorded there the uncanny results of her seances, and the plaintiff's lawyers became deeply interested in its contents, especially those that told of communications in the years 1907 and 1908.

Tells of Spirit Talks.

She was calm and steady-eyed, and her low, half dreamy way of answering questions made the room's shadows the more creepy.

"I was the only one of our family that could communicate with the spirit world," she said, "and my grandfather, Mr. Thompson, realized my ability in this direction. Often he asked me to converse with his first wife."

Here a letter found in the strong box was shown to her. This, she said, was in her handwriting and undoubtedly was a communication from Thompson's first wife, known in spirit vernacular as "Muzzie," her pet name on earth. "Muzzie," Mr. Funk said, instructed her positively to transmit this communication to her grandfather. The letter went into evidence.

This letter, the young widow asserts, given to Thompson about the time the will now being contested was drawn, is convincing evidence that he was influenced in leaving his property by the belief that his dead wife disapproved of her probable successor.

Gentlemen: The New Auburn 1911 is a joy. Having used the Auburn from the beginning, I have watched for all the marked improvements made, and have used the cars manufactured during each year since 1905, and am frank to say that the new 1911 is all that can be desired in a five-passenger touring car.

We took our first ride a few days since—right new car direct from shop—journey to Winona Lake and return; made excellent time and were able to make entire trip, all the hills of Whitley and Kosciusko counties, without change of gear, and on the steepest and longest hills the car increased speed all the way to the top.

Well, it's just a joy—that's all.

Yours truly,

E. F. YARNELLE.

PROBLEM OF A CITY'S REFUSE.

Chicago, Like ew York, May Have to Build an Island of Trash.

(Chicago Evening Post.)

What will Chicago do with its street sweepings, ashes and other rubbish a few years hence?

That is the question which is puzzling those who have charge of the disposition of the city's waste. Within three years, it is estimated, every clay hole and abandoned quarry in the city will be filled. Suitable dumping places are becoming scarce. Soon all will have been utilized.

Several plans for the disposition of the city's refuse after all holes have been filled have been discussed. Among them are:

The burning of all rubbish and waste matter.

The filling in of excavations or low places outside the city limits.

Construction of an island in Lake Michigan.

Building an island in the lake is an idea formulated by Robert M. Cochrane, acting superintendent of streets. He declares that it could be done easily.

Riker's island in the East river, opposite One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street, in New York, was built of the city's refuse. An addition of 173 acres is now being made and when it is completed it is estimated that the "made island" will be worth $2,000,000. Mr. Cochrane thinks such an island should should be built in the lake and transformed into a park.

"The problem of disposing of the city's refuse is getting to be serious," said Charles I. Smith, assistant superintendent of streets. "Chicago will be facing a big problem in a few years. I took an automobile trip around the city a few days ago in a search for suitable dumping grounds, and I found that they are very scarce."

In the outlying districts ashes gathered in the alleys during the winter are used in the construction of new streets. Filling of the lowlands in the Calumet lake district may be considered when all clay holes have been utilized.

BOYS' CORN CLUBS THRIVING.

One Hundred Young Texans Will Make 100 Bushels to the Acre.

(Houston Post.)

Temple, Texas.—"There are 100 boys in Texas who will make 100 bushels of corn to the acre this year," was the encouraging statement of J. L. Quicksall, of the United States department of agriculture, who attended the annual institute of commercial secretaries here recently. Armed with arguments, statistics and general information concerning agricultural conditions in this state, Mr. Quicksall came to the convention to assist the secretaries in laying out plans for the betterment of agricultural methods and to offer the co-operation of his department to this end.

Mr. Quicksall is strong on boys' corn clubs and the data furnished to the convention on the success of the clubs so far forever close the door on doubt as to the feasibility of the boys' corn club movement, which has become so popular in this state during the past year.

"Everywhere the boys' corn clubs are meeting with encouragement," continued Mr. Quicksall, "and I am prepared to say that the movement to organize the boys of the country has been a signal success. Down in Williamson county this year one of our boys, seventeen years of age, will average on seventy-five acres of land sixty-five bushels of corn to the acre, while right across from his land his father, a man of fifty, who has farmed all his life, is hoping to pull through with twenty-seven and a half. The farmer's reply, in answer to a question as to why his son was more successful than himself, was: 'Oh, well, he's learned how to cultivate from them there corn clubs, and, in my day, there warn't none of them!'"

FORT WAYNE'S GUESTS.

Fort Wayne for a day or two will be host to two distinguished bodies of Indiana citizens. The Indiana State Medical association and the County Commissioners' association have come and they are none the less welcome because they have come together.

It is now more than fourteen years since the State Medical association has honored Fort Wayne by holding its annual convention here, but the occasion of that last visit is still well remembered for the distinguished array of medical scientists it brought together in this city. That convention had professional and scientific progress to report to the world and no less so will this be true of this year's congress of the Indiana doctors. These great conventions are profitable, and are more profitable to general humanity than to the physicians. Fort Wayne welcomes them heartily and while witness to great progress in medical science hopes the doctors themselves will be able to note some progress in Fort Wayne.

The county commissioners of Indiana are a body of men who are as close to the vital concerns of the people as public servants well can be. Their discussions here will deal with means and measures for improving the public welfare and raising the efficiency of public money. Among questions to be taken up here is the subject of road-making. Indiana has many miles of good roads—some of them the best in the country; but there is a woeful waste of money in public highway building and maintenance. The Indiana commissioners can address themselves to no public concern of greater importance.

The commissioners of Indiana come to one of the best managed counties in the state—a county of good roads, good bridges, good drainage, good buildings, good people and good public officials. To such examples they are welcomed and to a hospitality that hopes there may be nothing wanting.

SHOULD HAVE CONFERENCE.

It is proposed that at an early date officials of Indiana electric traction railways have a conference for the purpose of considering means to promote security of life on their lines. There is imperative demand of circumstances for such a conference. Within the past week fifty lives have been snuffed out by traction disasters in this state. Not impressed by the horror at Kingsland on Wednesday, a train crew on another railroad on Saturday committed a fatal blunder exactly similar, with consequences in no wise different save in the number of dead.

There is need that the electric traction men of Indiana get together and solemnly undertake to find a way that will make the lives of their passengers reasonably safe. The governor and the state railway commission should meet with them and there should be not only the adoption of such rules of operation as may seem to the wisdom of such a conference necessary, but a legislative program for crystalizing into statute law such measures of security as are approved. This ought to be the inevitable result of such a conference as is proposed.

Indiana is not behind other states in the character of her laws for the regulation of railway traffic, but there has come upon her tragic need that she look to improvement. There must be devised and enforced a better system of running trains, the efficiency and morale of train employes and dispatchers must be raised, specially dangerous curves must be modified and regulations concerning the employment of men in periods of consecutive hours and not by the vicious "split run" system must by law be enjoined.

Statute law is not going to remove the element of accident from human existence, but it can compel such preventive measures as reason and at least a decent regard for human life make imperative.

Hon. James Schoolcraft Sherman, vice president of the United States, never was much, but he certainly has the aspect today of much less. Mr. Sherman made the mistake of supposing that he is representing modern public sentiment and political aspirations; that as standpatter and reactionary no less than as the foremost representative of machine politics he was on the stronger and the winning side. He knows much better and he ought to have known it much sooner—soon enough, indeed, to have enabled him to get something firm and thick between his head and the big stick. Nothing can deprive Mr. Sherman of the vice presidency and he will go along with that and its sedate destinctions for some two and a half years to come. But he may as well have his political epitaph fitted to him at once—unless, like his more perspicacious and adroit chief, he confesses the breaking of the light, the dawning of a new day, and exalt insurgency.

A deal of speculation is being wasted on the folly of "Bob" Chanler and the cause of it. Sheriff Chanler simply made the same different kinds of a fool of himself that all men make who become enmeshed in the snares of beautiful and designing women. The Italian singer knew what she wanted and got it. If Chanler has fulfilled his intent when he made his property over to her she will keep it and the eminent gentleman who so ably acquitted himself in the duties of the Dutchess county shrievalty will add one more unit to the accumulated burden of proof of the transient relation a fool bears to his money.

The intrepid aviator who flew over the Alps is dead with his glory still fresh upon him. It was a stirring achievement and everywhere there must be sentiments of real pity for the hapless youth whom fate mocked by passing him safely over the most tremendous perils of his journey and then striking him down when the way had come to seem easy. Chavez will have his place in history of man-flying along with the Wrights, who first flew; with Pleriot, who crossed the English channel the first time; with Curtiss, Brookins, Rolls, Faulhan and the others who have demonstrated that man can fly.

Congressman Cline has inaugurated his campaign in Allen county and as he progresses with it he will find an uncommonly friendly feeling for him throughout the community. Mr. Cline has been a hard worker and most courteous and responsive servant of his constituents. He will make a thorough canvass of the county during the next month.

Senator Beveridge has opened his campaign and there will not be nothing inappropriate in the coming forth of Hon. James E. Watson with his silver tongue cutting loose for his mighty good friend and for the cause of insurgency.

President Taft is going to join the progressives. What a manager the colonel is, to be sure.

THE PROGRESS IN MEDICINE.

In Fifty Years Great Strides Have Been Made in Increasing Health of Man.

(Boston Herald.)

From most, if not quite, every viewpoint there is unquestionably much difference between the medicine of fifty or sixty years ago and the medicine of today—medicine in the sixth decade of the nineteenth century and medicine in the first decade of the twentieth century.

In other days, in this country at least, upon a fair English education, a recognized preceptor's non-sworn certificate of three years' study, friendly evidence of moral character, two four months' terms of lectures at a chartered school and a perfunctory examination, the M. D. was generally obtainable by all free men; now, with legal standards constantly advancing, the full equivalent of a high school training, non-biased evidence of four years' study and good morals, four eight months' courses, some clinic experience and many strict examinations are rulably demanded therefor.

Then very few, if, indeed, any, legal restrictions here existing, all free nongraduates might unrestrainedly practice the country over, a medical diploma usually evidencing only collegiate recognition of professional fitness; now, while neither medical teaching nor clinic experience, to say naught of any diplomas, is often prerequisite, every state carefully registers under divers enactments all practitioners.

Then diagnosis was necessarily inferred for the most part from subjective symptoms; now, through precise instruments that explore every organ, it is easily based in the main on objective.

Then blistering and bleeding, salivating and sweating and purging, however hostile, were everywhere and everywise employed; now mild medicaments, energizing electricity and palatable pharmacals, conservedly chosen, are unreservedly and understandingly used.

Then instrumental surgery, especially plastic, caval and orthopedic, was decidedly limited; now every part is operatively treated with marked success.

Then the insane were quelled chiefly by mechanical restraint; now they are governed by moral suasion.

Then specialists were few; now they are many. Then medical—or, far better, medico-legal—experts were really respected; now they are sadly suspected.

Then artificial anesthesia, but recentlly discovered, was hardly known to most; now ether and chloroform, for their well known uses in surgery and midwifery, are fairly appreciated by many, and the marvelous compound of hyocin, morphine and cactin, which, though just introduced, is widely administered.

But enough, doubtless, for the intelligent. Medically, at least, the world has been remade within fifty years, as is well evidenced by the increasing health and longevity of man.

CONTRACTS HELD UP FOR MEN TO DO THE WORK

Employers Are Unable to Secure Labor for Public Work.

Members of the board of works have been calling the contractors on public works into the office for several days and demanding that they rush the contracts in their hands, but have been met with the statement that there is not sufficient labor to be obtained and for that reason they can not make the progress they would like.

Trippeer & Son, who have the city part of the track elevation work, could use fifty men and they say they have advertised here and in papers in other towns, but have not been able to recruit their force up to sufficient numbers to make the progress they want.

This complaint is general and this is the real cause of delay in finishing up the work all over the city. Good wages are being paid by the contractors, but they seem to be unable to find men who want work had enough to earn from 20 to 22 cents an hour.

Will Open Up Bids.

The board of public safety announced last night that it would open bids for an auto patrol wagon on October 11. The question of buying an auto chemical engine for No. 3 fire station was also considered, but no action taken.

BEVERIDGE SOUNDS HIS KEYNOTE OF CAMPAIGN

Senator Begins His Spellbinding With Speech in Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 28.—Senator Albert J. Beveridge last night started the republicans of Indiana on their campaign of 1910. He pledged the party anew to the doctrines adopted by the state convention several months ago.

Throughout his speech the senator was merciless to the interests, which he insisted have been controlling legislation for years. When he said he had refused to surrender to the combination that pushed through the Aldrich tariff bill, a shout went up that shook the building.

His arraignment of the democratic senators and congressmen who refused to stand by their own partyy and who went to the limit of attempting to shut off the debate on the tariff bill also was cheered.

Refers to Illinois Corruption.

Nearing the close, when he defied the big coroporate interests, in which he included the tobacco trust, to attempt to pollute the voters and legislature of Indiana, the display of feeling was intense. Probably there has been no more significant incident in the history of the republican party of Indiana in the last quarter of a century than the demonstration which marked Mr. Beveridge's statement that "Indiana in 1911 will not be the Illinois of 1909."

"This is the war of the citizen—the war of the citizen against the giant interests that wrong him," said Mr. Beveridge. Then he charged the democrats with being controlled by the reactionaries.

"Wall street's masters look favorably on that partyy as now controlled," he said. "George Gould already has joined it openly. The whole present day tendency among democratic politicians is reactionary."

In the present campaign, Mr. Beveridge said, the republicans will appeal to the firesides and not to the dark rooms of the party bosses for guidance. While he declared that "our appeal will be broader than partisan lines," he devoted a great deal of attention to the tariff.

Favors Tariff Commission.

A genuine tariff commission, he declared, would have prevented the injustice to the people contained in the wool schedule of the Aldrich bill. He riddled the wool and cotton schedules and criticised the combination of senators that made the enactment of them possible. The cotton schedule, he asserted, was put through by a bipartisan combination in congress after the cotton manufacturers found out they could get what they wanted.

Explaining the vote of the insurgent senators against the Payne-Aldrich bill, he said:

"We voted against the whole bill which those wrongs polluted, not only as a differencee of economic opinion, but also openly as a matter of moral conviction."

He mentioned Col. Roosevelt for the first time in giving him credit for inaugurating the conservation movement.

Mr. Beveridge's appeal for a national child labor law which the interests, he declared, are fighting, was one of the features of his keynote.

Says Voters Cannot Be Bought.

"It is said great sums of money are coming into Indiana to defeat me," he said in concluding. "I advise the sources of this corruption fund to save their cash. Indiana's voters cannot be bought before election and Indiana's legislature cannot be bought before or after an election.

"Let the interests who are parting with their currency, including the tobacco trust, put that in their pipe and smoke it."

KILLED BY ELECTRIC SHOCK.

Anderson Man Meets Instant Death in Effort to Save Others.

Anderson, Ind., Sept. 28.—George F. Hackleman, 30 years old, was instantly killed early last night when he attempted to remove a live electric wire from the middle of the street where it had been blown by a storm. Hackleman, while on his way home from a fire, noticed the live wire, and, securing a lantern from a neighbor, attempted to cut it down to prevent others from running into it. He tied his handkerchief about the wire before taking hold of it. The 22,000 volts of electricity, however, made the connection through the handkerchief to his hand, and death was instantaneous. Hackleman leaves the widow and four small children.

BLACK HAND OUTRAGE.

New York, Sept. 28.—Friendship for the Italian squad of the detective bureau, of which the late Lieut. Petrosino was formerly in command, is believed to have incited black handers to attempt to assassinate Aguati Rini today by hurling a bomb at him from a housetop. He was shocked into unconsciousness, but escaped fatal injuries. A similar attempt on Rini's life was made three weeks ago.

After a thorough investigation the ingly prevalent among the working classes of London. One phase of the evil is the impregnating of cigarettes with opium, which, the Gazette asserts, "is rampant, especially among the mill girls of Lancashire, who find it irresistible as a solace and means of obtaining temporary relief from the weariness and pain attendant on a life of toil."

GHOST OF JEALOUS WIFE CHEATS OLD MAN'S BRIDE

Widow Charges Medium Used Seances to Move Spouse Against Her.

New York, Sept. 28.—Gray twilight shadows gave a spooky air to the surrogate's courtroom in Brooklyn as there was told the astounding tale of a ghost wife sending from the grave messages of reproach and displeasure. So effectively did she send them that a wealthy old man, dying, cut off from all share in his millions his bride of four months.

Robert H. Thompson, of Brooklyn, was the man. He died last June at the age of 70 years, leaving more than $2,000,000. He was the founder of the Thompson & Norris Corrugated Paper company, with main offices in Brooklyn and branches in Boston, Canada and England. In the Boston branch Miss Maybelle Ames was stenographer and confidential agent. There was a courtship of several years, ending in her marriage early this year to Thompson, who was 40 years her senior.

Granddaughter Was Medium.

At Thompson's death it was discovered that his will, made in 1908, left all his property to his sons, J. Linton Thompson and Robert H. Thompson, jr., and to his granddaughter, Mrs. Marion A. Funk. She is the wife of Dr. Merton Funk and niece of Dr. Isaac Funk, the publisher, and is a prominent figure in psychic and spiritualistic research.

It was Mrs. Funk, sitting clad in black in the courtroom, who said that she had acted as a medium between her grandfather and his dead wife. She testified she had transmitted messages to him at the time when his courtship of his stenographer had begun. In these messages the ghost wife scolded him for "lies, deceit and selfishness," and cried: "O, Rob, pray for strength not to let this devil in torment take the strength away from you"—and much more besides.

Mrs. Funk asserted she had discovered her powers as a medium when she was 18 years old, but had not given seances since she married a few years ago. However, shortly before her Aunt Kate, Robert Thompson's sister, died she had learned from the spirit world of the approaching death and on the night her aunt died she received a spirit communication from her.

Widow Named in Second Will?

Messrs. Sparks and Fuller, the attorneys for Mrs. Maybelle Ames Thompson allege that it was because of a series of seances in which his young granddaughter acted as medium, and gave him messages purporting to come from his dead wife, strongly unfavorable to a second marriage on his part, that Thompson signed the will in which no mention was made of the young woman he was to wed.

They further assert that a second will was made, but that the 1908 will was filed so swiftly they have had no opportunity to find and bring forward the latter document. They say this will was signed in a Brooklyn hotel by Thompson and witnessed by a man named Haffner and another named Doll. It was drawn up a few months before the millionaire's death and bequeathed to his wife exactly half of his fortune.

Before the case came up yesterday the lawyers for Mrs. Thompson got an order for the production by the defendants of a strong box that had belonged to her husband. In this they were certain the new will would be found. It was not. But they found a diary kept by the youthful Mrs. Funk. She recorded there the uncanny results of her seances, and the plaintiff's lawyers became deeply interested in its contents, especially those that told of communications in the years 1907 and 1908.

Tells of Spirit Talks.

Mainly because of that diary Mrs. Funk found herself on the witness stand today.

She was calm and steady-eyed, and her low, half dreamy way of answering questions made the room's shadows the more creepy.

"I was the only one of our family that could communicate with the spirit world," she said, "and my grandfather, Mr. Thompson, realized my ability in this direction. Often he asked me to converse with his first wife."

Here a letter found in the strong box was shown to her. This, she said, was in her handwriting and undoubtedly was a communication from Thompson's first wife, known in spirit vernacular as "Muzzie," her pet name on earth. "Muzzie," Mr. Funk said, instructed her positively to transmit this communication to her grandfather. The letter went into evidence.

This letter, the young widow asserts, given to Thompson about the time the will now being contested was drawn, is convincing evidence that he was influenced in leaving his property by the belief that his dead wife disapproved of her probable successor.

PROBLEM OF A CITY'S REFUSE.

Chicago, Like New York, May Have to Build an Island of Trash.

(Chicago Evening Post.)

What will Chicago do with its street sweepings, ashes and other rubbish a few years hence?

That is the question which is puzzling those who have charge of the disposition of the city's waste. Within three years, it is estimated, every clay hole and abandoned quarry in the city will be filled. Suitable dumping places are becoming scarce. Soon all will have been utilized.

Several plans for the disposition of the city's refuse after all holes have been filled have been discussed. Among them are:

The burning of all rubbish and waste matter.

The filling in of excavations or low places outside the city limits.

Construction of an island in Lake Michigan.

Building an island in the lake is an idea formulated by Robert M. Cochrane, acting superintendent of streets. He declares that it could be done easily.

Riker's island in the East river, opposite One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street, in New York, was built of the city's refuse. An addition of 173 acres is now being made and when it is completed it is estimated that the "made island" will be worth $2,000,000. Mr. Cochrane thinks such an island should should be built in the lake and transformed into a park.

"The problem of disposing of the city's refuse is getting to be serious," said Charles I. Smith, assistant superintendent of streets. "Chicago will be facing a big problem in a few years. I took an automobile trip around the city a few days ago in a search for suitable dumping grounds, and I found that they are very scarce."

In the outlying districts ashes gathered in the alleys during the winter are used in the construction of new streets. Filling of the lowlands in the Calumet lake district may be considered when all clay holes have been utilized.

BOYS' CORN CLUBS THRIVING.

One Hundred Young Texans Will Make 100 Bushels to the Acre.

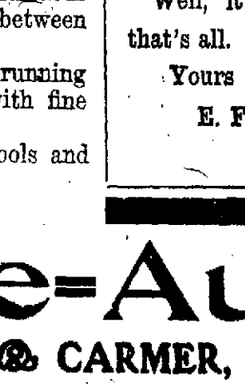
(Houston Post.)

Temple, Texas.—"There are 100 boys in Texas who will make 100 bushels of corn to the acre this year," was the encouraging statement of J. L. Quicksall, of the United States department of agriculture, who attended the annual institute of commercial secretaries here recently. Armed with arguments, statistics and general information concerning agricultural conditions in this state, Mr. Quicksall came to the convention to assist the secretaries in laying out plans for the betterment of agricultural methods and to offer the co-operation of his department to this end.

Mr. Quicksall is strong on boys' corn clubs and the data furnished to the convention on the success of the clubs so far forever close the door on doubt as to the feasibility of the boys' corn club movement, which has become so popular in this state during the past year.

"Everywhere the boys' corn clubs are meeting with encouragement," continued Mr. Quicksall, "and I am prepared to say that the movement to organize the boys of the country has been a signal success. Down in Williamson county this year one of our boys, seventeen years of age, will average on seventy-five acres of land sixty-five bushels of corn to the acre, while right across from his land his father, a man of fifty, who has farmed all his life, is hoping to pull through with twenty-seven and a half. The farmer's reply, in answer to a question as to why his son was more successful than himself, was: 'Oh, well, he's learned how to cultivate from them there corn clubs, and, in my day, there warn't none of them!'"

Growth



We feel that we owe our customers an apology for the manner in which we have compelled them for many weeks to transact their banking business amid the dirt, noise and confusion incident to the changes that we have been making in our Banking Room. It will soon be over, however, and we think our increased facilities, and the added room will fully repay every one for the inconvenience that has been experienced.

The growth of the bank has continued right along regardless of the way we have been torn up.

Gentlemen: The New Auburn 1911 is a joy. Having used the Auburn from the beginning, I have watched for all the marked improvements made, and have used the cars manufactured during each year since 1905, and am frank to say that the new 1911 is all that can be desired in a five-passenger touring car.

We took our first ride a few days since—right new car direct from shop—journey to Winona Lake and return; made excellent time and were able to make entire trip, all the hills of Whitley and Kosciusko counties, without change of gear, and on the steepest and longest hills the car increased speed all the way to the top.

Well, it's just a joy—that's all.

Yours truly,

E. F. YARNELLE.

The wedding of Miss Elnor Bond, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Bond, and Mr. Edmund Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Miller, took place this afternoon at 5 o'clock in Trinity Episcopal church in the presence of near family and personal friends. Simplicity as well as beauty characterized the scene. Preceding the entrance of the bridal party the organist, Mr. Church, played for some time and as the ushers started to lead the bridal party up the aisle the vested choir sang the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin." The bride walked with her father and presented a distinguished and lovely appearance in her bridal costume, a pink reception gown made with slight train of poie de crepe, trimmed with lace and silk fringe. With the gown the bride wore a long coat or marquisette and a gray velvet hat trimmed with pink velvet flowers and having the modish lace frill underneath the brim. Pink kid boots and white gloves added to the completeness of the costume and a bouquet of lilies of the valley and pink orchids contributed to its elegance. Mrs. Carl Rurode was the matron of honor to the bride. Her costume was a gray satin with coat and hat to correspond and a facing of gold to the brim of the hat and pink roses in its trimming followed the colors of the bride's costume. Mrs. Rurode carried white chrysanthemums and autumn foliage. The best man, Mr. Herbert Miller; the bridegroom and the ushers, Messrs. George Osterhaus, of Detroit, Frank Wilt, of Indianapolis, Ewing Bond and Carl Rurode, each wore a white gardenia. The church decoration was of palms and white and yellow chrysanthemums on the altar. After the marriage the bridal party and the immediate friends, together with a few personal friends of the bride and groom, were driven to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Bond, in Fairfield avenue, where the wedding dinner was served as soon as congratulations had been extended. The house decorations were principally of garden flowers and a wealth of ziunias decorated the parlor, hall and porches. In the diningroom the bride's table was in white and green. A crystal basket of white chrysanthemums in the center was surrounded with a row of white candles unshaded and in crystal holders. A wide circle of smilax enclosed the candles. At each place was a wedding card with gold bels tied with white ribbons. Other guests were seated at small tables where bouquets of flowers and touches of ferns added to the decoration. In the library lovely yellow and white chrysanthemums formed the floral decoration. There were between thirty and forty at the dinner, including Mr. and Mrs. Samuel B. Rohrer, of Topeka, Kan.; Mr. and Mrs. Ross Gordon Thomas, of Indianapolis, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Wright, of Edinburg, Ind. After an eastern wedding trip the bride and groom will be at home in this city in a new residence at 649 West Creighton avenue. For traveling the bride will wear a tailored blue cloth coat suit with blue velvet hat. The bride and groom are favorite members of society and their wedding is of interest to the most prominent people of the city.

Mash two anchovies and add them to French dressing. Stone twenty-four olives and chop them rather fine. Cut one boiled potato and one boiled beet into dice. Chop a small cucumber pickle. Line a salad bowl with lettuce leaves, sprinkle over the gherkin, then the olives, then the beet and potato. Dust with salt, paprika and white pepper. IN THE THEATERS

SPECIAL MATINEE THURSDAY.

George Sidney and His Funmakers Coming for Two Shows.

George Sidney (Busy Izzy), the funny little comedian, who gave to the stage an entirely new and genuinely funny Hebrew character, has a new comedy vehicle this season entitled "The Joy Rider," and it has already proven one of the brightest musical novelties presented this season. Over half a hundred comedians, singers and dancers, embracing some of the leading comedy artists of the profession, including Miss Carrie Webber, assist Sidney in his new creation. Extraordinary efforts and lavish expenditures have been made by the management in this season's production and the best and most talented directors have been employed in weaving together this potpourri of music, song and jollity, richly embellished with new and special scenery, handsome gowns and a big chorus of 30 girls and 12 men. "The Joy Riders" will come to the Majestic theater Thursday matinee and night.

"Buster Brown" Saturday Matinee and Night.

written for this season's presentation, and is said to be one of the brightest, snappiest musical shows traveling. The book is by George Totten Smith and the incidental music by John W. Bratton. The business that this famous play is doing this season only emphasizes the fact that the discriminating public are picking out the good ones and letting the bad ones go by. The present-day craze, the queer conceit, the Billiken, the little god of Good Luck, will be seen in real life when Buster Brown comes to town. To the charming music of a song called "The Billiken Man" the big chorus of the company in Billiken dress, comical face and all, will create a sensation. The odd sight of 16 Billikens, true to character, leaves an impression of novelty not easily forgotten. This attraction will be at the Majestic theater Saturday matinee and night and the announcement of its coming will no doubt bring joy and gladness to all the little ones.

Temple Theater.

Hugh F. Blaney, billed at the Temple this week as a singing comedian, is classy in every sense of the word. And the big record-breaking crowds this week are not stingy with the applause when he appears. Mr. Blaney is a middle aged man with a strong tenor voice that is better liked in vaudeville than several who are boasting an operatic reputation. The singer has hit upon a good idea of handling his numbers. The first three he sings but one verse and the chorus of each and the fourth and last comprises two verses and two choruses. It is a happy thought of not giving the audience too much of one thing and the splendid variety of songs he renders and the way he handles them stamps him a man of many years' experience. There is no denying that, and when it is said he can go into any city in the country and make good, that is the best possible recommendation. Mr. Blaney is making a host of friends here who will be sorry when he closes Sunday night.

TIMELY PICKLE RECIPES.

Green Tomato Pickle.

Wash one peck green tomatoes and cut in thin slices. Add two quarts white onions, peeled and sliced, and put all the vegetables into a large earthen crock, sprinkling salt between the layers. Cover and set in a cool place over night. In the morning turn the vegetables into a colander and drain. Put into a porcelain lined kettle, cover with vinegar and place the kettle where its contents will simply simmer until tender and transparent. Drain again, put fresh vinegar into the preserving kettle, add two pounds of sugar, a quarter of a pound of white mustard seed and one tablespoonful each of ground cloves, allspice and celery seed.

When the tomatoes have drained, mix with them a teaspoonful each of tumeric and cayenne and a half tablespoonful of ground mustard. As soon as the vinegar reaches the boiling point turn over the pickle, mixing well with a wooden spoon. Add one cupful of olive oil, then set the pickles to one side until cold. Put into jars and cover.

Green Tomato Chow-Chow.

Chop fine one-half bushel of green tomatoes, one-half dozen green peppers and one dozen onions. Sprinkle with a pint of salt and let stand over night. In the morning drain, cover with good cider vinegar and cook slowly one hour; then drain and pack in jars. Take two pounds sugar, two tablespoonfuls of cinnamon, one tablespoonful each of allspice and cloves and pepper, one-half cupful ground mustard and one pint of grated horseradish, with vinegar enough to mix well. When boiling hot, pour over the pickle in the jars and cover tightly. This will keep for years.

Ripe Tomato Pickle.

Allow for one gallon of extra ripe tomatoes, one gallon of cabbage, one quart of onions chopped fine and one-half dozen green peppers, also chopped. Add a teaspoonful of salt; mix well and let stand two hours. Drain in a cheesecloth bag. When well drained, add three tablespoonfuls of mustard, two tablespoonfuls each of tumeric and ginger, one tablespoonful each of cloves, celery and cinnamon, all the spices being ground; five scant cupfuls of sugar and two quarts of vinegar. Cook thirty minutes in a porcelain lined kettle, then can and seal.

EMMA PADDOCK TELFORD.

CANNING RECIPES.

Peaches.

For canning peaches allow to every eight quarts two pounds sugar and three quarts water. Make a syrup, stirring until the sugar is dissolved. As soon as it boils skim carefully. Meanwhile, having peeled the peaches, pack in sterilized glass jars, making sure before you begin that your rubbers are new and the tops of the cans perfect. Settle the fruit as much as possible as you pack by shaking the jar. Fill the hot jars with the boiling syrup. It will require about a pint to each quart jar. Adjust the glass top half way over the jar, but do not put on the rubber. Set the jars in the oven in shallow pans half filled with boiling water. Close the oven door (and the oven should be only moderately warm) and cook the fruit fifteen minutes. Take from the oven, having adjusted the rubbers, fill each jar in turn with the boiling syrup, which should have been kept hot on the back of the stove. Fill so full that the scalding liquid runs over, then put on the top and wipe and seal. Se the cans on a board or thickly folded paper, out of a draught, until cooled, when you can probably tighten the top still more. This syrup does not make the fruit very sweet. If you prefer to have it sweeter, increase the proportion of sugar. Peaches put up this way in the cans looke better than where they are cooked in a kettle, then dipped into the can. When the peaches are large they must be cut in halves, but leave some of the pits in for flavor.

Canned Whole Tomatoes.

Pour boiling water over round, solid tmeated tomatoes, then skin. Pack in jars as compactly as possible, put on the rubber and screw the lid part way. Take a boiler or large kettle, lay a perforated tin or wooden rack on the bottom and set on the stove. Set the cans in it, not allowing them to touch. They may be kept separated by using coils of clothesline, whisps of hay or towels. Pour in cold or lukewarm water to cover the jars about three-quarters of their height, and bring the water to a boil. Boil just five minutes from the time it commences. Take out the jars, one at a time, set on a thickly folded paper or board and with a silver knife work down the side of the can to allow all the air bubbles to escape. Have ready some other tomatoes that have been stewed and are scalding hot and fill the cans to overflowing with the hot juice. Adjust the cover, screw air tight, put back in the boiler and steam ten minutes longer, pouring more water into the boiler so as to completely cover the jars.

At the end of ten minutes remove as they cool. Always select solid tomatoes not too ripe, speckled or frostbitten, as they will ferment.

When cold, wrap each jar in coarse brown paper and keep in a cool, dry place.

RHEUMATISM

WEAK KIDNEYS & THIN BLOOD

Not only is the blood the great nourishing source of our systems, but equally as important is its work of removing the waste of oxodized tissues which have been consumed in force and bodily heat. This waste is filtered out through the kidneys. When, however, the kidneys become weak and unable to perform their regular duties, the waste is allowed to remain in the circulation, soon forming uric acid which destroys the greater portion of nourishing elements of the blood and leave it weak and acrid. This imperfect blood deposits into the different muscles and joints the uratic impurity with which it is contaminated. Then the pains and aches of Rheumatism commence. The gritty formation which uric acid causes collects in the joints and produces the aches and stiffness which always accompany the disease. Likewise the muscles are coated and lose their elasticity, while the continual irritation to the nerves produces swelling and inflammation of the flesh.

SSS S. S. S. cures Rheumatism in the only way it is possible to overcome the disease; it cleanses the blood of all uric acid poison and strengthens the kidneys so they are enabled to properly filter out the waste. S. S. S. is not only the best of blood purifiers, but a fine tonic. Book on Rheumatism free to all who write.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

DESERTED GIRL HE HAD ELOPED WITH

Portland, Ind., Sept. 28.—Sheriff S. J. King left yesterday for Pittsburg to take charge of and return to the county jail George Raymond Guyser, who was arrested in that city on the charge of kidnapping. Guyser, it will be remembered, is the Redkey man who eloped with Miss Dessie Hartley, aged fifteen years, and also a resident of Redkey.

Until a few days ago it was thought that Guyser and Miss Hartley, the latter a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hartley, of Redkey, had been married but it developed that the girl had been abandoned by Guyser and left in destitute circumstances in a cheap lodging house in Covington, Kentucky.

Guyser is a married man and until going to Redkey several months ago resided in Pittsburg, Pa., where his abandoned wife and child still reside. Guyser was a laborer at Redkey and passed himself as a single man and boarded at the Hartley home. He and Miss Hartley became infatuated with each other and solicited the sanction of her parents to their marriage but this was denied and after several attempts to elope they finally succeeded in getting away from the parental home on the night of August 21.

The couple first went to Muncie, where they spent a few hours at the home of an aunt of Miss Hartley and from there went to Indianapolis and later to Louisville, Ky., and from there to Covington, Ky., where Guyser abandoned the girl, leaving her among strangers without money and a wardrobe consisting solely of the clothing she wore at the time she left home.

The girl was found by the police of Covington and in her destitute circumstances, it is said she presented a pitiable sight. She was turned over to the care of an orphans' home at Covington and officials of that institution notified her parents of her whereabouts and they went to Covington and brought her to her home at Redkey.

AS RESULT OF A FIGHT

Damage Suit for $2,500 is Filed in Whitley Court.

Columbia City, Ind., Sept. 28.—As the outcome of trouble that originated some time ago between Lan Nickey, a young farmer of Smith township, and his neighbors, Will and Scott Van Meter, a damage suit has been filed with the clerk of the court by Nickey, asking for damages in the sum of $2,500 for alleged injuries inflicted upon him by the Van Meters on the 20th of September. The complaint alleges that the Van Meter brothers beat him, kicked him in the hips, struck him on the back of the head and neck and on the right side of the face and in the right eye; it alleges also that they bit him on the arms and grabbed him, and that all said injuries were inflicted without any provocation or any cause whatever on the part of the plaintiff. The case will come up for hearing at the November term of court.

DEATH CAME SUDDENLY.

Italian Dropped Dead in Logansport Postoffice.

Logansport, Ind., Sept. 28.—While standing in front of the money order window at the postoffice yesterday, filling out a blank order for a $5 remittance to a friend in New York city, Antonio Mongillo, an Italian, aged over 60 years, dropped dead of heart failure. Mongillo had been employed by D. Castaldi, Dunkirk groceryman and saloonist, for several years, and on account of his advanced age, was preparing to return to Italy, his former home. He had accumulated money enough to keep him for the rest of his life in his home country, and was recognized as one of the prosperous Italian residents of Dunkirk.

HOWELL STRUCK IT RICH.

Former Hartford City Man Makes $25,000 in Oil Fields.

Hartford City, Ind., Sept. 28.—Clint Howell, former Hartford City oil worker, has made a stake of $25,000 in the New Bremen, Ohio, oil field, according to Vern Harner, of this city, who is interested in a number of leases in that territory.

Howell was one of the first in the field and managed to get hold of several good pieces of property which turned out to be productive of the oleaginous fluid in large quantities.

COLUMBIA CITY LEVY.

Columbia City, Ind., Sept. 28.—The city council at its regular session was forced to raise the tax levy for the city from 90 cents to $1.07, this being done in order to meet the coming indebtedness of the city and in order to prepare the city for a day electric current, which is now promised not later than next spring. City Attorney Strong showed the council the tax levy for the past five years had been as follows on the $100 valuation: $1.35 for 1905; $1.20 for 1906; $1.10 for 1907; 99 cents for 1908, and 90 cents of 1909. The council after some deliberation approved the ordinance making the levy $1.07 for 1910.

PORTLAND'S TAX RATE.

Portland, Ind., Sept. 28.—The tax rate for Portland for the year 1911, as adopted by the city council at its regular session, will be the same as it was last year—$1.50 on each $100 valuation—and in place of dividing it into eight different funds, as has been done in the past, it will be levied in one general fund.

PROMINENT FARMER DEAD.

Auburn, Ind., Sept. 28.—David Goodrich, one of the best-known farmers of Fairfield township, in this county, died yesterday at the home of his son, Albert Goodrich, in Hudson, after an illness of several months. He was over 72 years of age and had resided in the county for 50 years. He was a soldier in the war of the rebellion.

TAXATION RATES GO UP IN TWO CITIES

Causes That Led to Increases of the Levies at Warsaw and Columbia City.

Warsaw, Ind., Sept. 28.—The city council has fixed the tax levy for the coming year at $1.28 on the $100, which is higher than the rate of last year, when the levy was 87 cents. The increase was made necessary because of the many improvements that have been made and are being made by the present council, greatly in excess of the expense of last year. Among these is the purchase of the new chemical wagon, the team of horses, harness, apparatus and remodeling of the fire house and city hall, and to furnish a man to look after the apparatus, care for the horses and act as driver. The cleaning of the sewer which had been let go for several years necessitated another big expense. The present council also fell heir to the Smith street bridge expense and has settled that also. Another big expense—and one that could not have been avoided for the reason that it was unsafe—was the erection of a new front for the city hall.

PAID $10,000 BEQUESTS.

Bluffton, Ind., Sept. 28.—According to the will of the late Amos Curry, which has been brought to light through the death of Frank Curry, who was killed by a Pennsylvania train in Fort Wayne, Philo Rogers, now deceased, and Mary Studebaker, now Mrs. Mary Wiecking, were to receive $10,000 equally divided between them. Yesterday Mrs. Almire Eisenhart, half sister of the late Frank Curry, who filed application of letters of administration for C. H. Plessinger, paid the money to the two estates through her attorneys, Simmons & Dailey.

MAY BUY TRI-LAKE RESORT.

Columbia City, Ind., Sept. 28.—W. F. Brien, of Indianapolis, who is representing a number of wealthy Indianapolis people, is negotiating with Samuel Harshbarger for the purchase of the Tri-Lake resort. He states that if the deal can be made that the people whom he represents will at once spend $10,000 boosting the resort and that they will build a traction line between Columbia City and the resort.

SEES A DEMOCRATIC VICTORY.

Former Governor Herrick, of Ohio, Predicts Change in Congress.

New York, Sept. 28.—Former Governor Myron T. Herrick, of Ohio, who is just back from a summer spent abroad, free from the perplexities of local or national politics, had some interesting comment to make on his arrival here regarding the recent democratic landslide in Maine. He expressed the belief that the next congress is likely to be democratic.

"As for the Maine election," said the former governor, "the Americans I met abroad all sized it up as a demonstration of the old rule that the party in power loses the congress elected next after the inauguration. I believe the only exceptions to the rule were during the administrations of McKinley and Roosevelt.

"I've been away so long that I'm not in touch with affairs in Ohio. But the republicans have nominated a good man, and, Ohio being normally a republican state, I can see no reason why we shouldn't carry it this fall."

The town hall of Luneburg, in Hanover, contains a touching memorial to a pig that breathed its last three hundred years ago. This consists of a handsome glass case inclosing a ham in excellent preservation, and underneath a black marble tablet with the following inscription in gold letters: "Passerby, here you behold the mortal remains of the pig which acquired for itself the imperishable glory by the discovery of the salt springs of Luneburg."—London Chronicle.

Gassy Stomachs

Relief in Five Minutes From the Most Acute Suffering.

That lump of lead feeling will quickly leave the stomach; the digestive juices will commence to digest the food and your stomach will feel fine and satisfactory in five minutes.

That is, if you will simply swallow two Mi-o-na stomach tablets; if you won't then you must suffer.

Perhaps you don't know that Meyer Bros. company guarantee Mi-o-na tablets to cure any case of indigestion, no matter of how long standing, or money back.

Perhaps you know that when your stomach is upset that your food doesn't digest and consequently blood is not furnished with sufficient nutrition to properly nourish the body.

If you are distressed after eating; if gas or sour food is forced up into the mouth, then your stomach is not right; your food is fermenting, not digesting, and you need Mi-o-na stomach tablets and need them badly.

It is an easy matter to set the stomach right if you start in time, and if your stomach does not properly digest the food you put into it, the proper thing to do is to get a box of Mi-o-na stomach tablets at once.

Meyer Bros. company and druggists everywhere sell them on the money-back plan, and on that basis no sufferer from indigestion can afford not to try them.

TERRE HAUTE GETS CLOSE TO FORT WAYNE.

City on Banks of Wabash Shows a Remarkable Growth in Decade.

Washington, Sept. 28.—Keen interest on the part of residents of the larger Indiana cities concerning the numerical rank of Terre Haute was satisfied yesterday when the census bureau gave out the population figures for that city, showing it to have 58,157, as compared with 36,673 in 1900, a gain of 21,484, or 58.6 per cent. in ten years.

Since the figures for Indianapolis, Evansville, Fort Wayne and South Bend had already been announced, it is now seen that Terre Haute takes rank as the fourth city in point of size in Indiana. South Bend is tramping close on the heels of the city by the Wabash for the fourth place honors. Evansville ranks second and Fort Wayne third, crowding Evansville.

The following table shows the present and 1900 statistics for the five cities named, which will be useful as a handy comparison:

	1910.	1900.
Indianapolis	233,650	169,164
Evansville	69,647	59,007
Fort Wayne	63,933	45,115
Terre Haute	58,157	36,673
South Bend	53,684	35,999

Growth is Remarkable.

At the time the census was taken a protest was made by business organizations of Terre Haute strongly complaining that a complete count had not been made and asserting that hundreds of "noses" had been overlooked. An independent count of certain zones indicated there was some foundation for complaint, but no action has been taken by the census department. Terre Haute's growth in the last ten years is shown to have been remarkable and it is hinted at the census bureau that the city ought to be proud enough of its record as compared with the showing made by its rivals in Indiana.

GIVES UP SEARCH FOR SON.

Dawson, Y. T., Sept. 28.—Rear Admiral John A. Rogers, U. S. N., retired, who has been touring Alaska searching for his missing son, is returning to Seattle. His efforts were fruitless. He found a road house in the upper Tanana valley where the young man passed last spring and took a raft. It is believed he was drowned.

GIBBONS IS SILENT ON PARTY.

Cardinal, in Registering, Says He Is a Republican-Democrat.

Baltimore, Sept. 28.—The new registration of voters was begun yesterday and Cardinal Gibbons was one of the first to get his name on the books. He carefully scrutinized the card on which the oath was printed and was then sworn. His age he gave as 76 and his home the cardinal's residence, where he said he had lived for thirty-three years. When asked by the presiding judge if he desired to give his party affiliation, as required by the law, the cardinal smilingly said: "I am a republican-democrat." He was told that he could not vote in the primaries unless he gave his party affiliation. Still smiling, the cardinal said: "I do not mind that at all."

NO STRINGS ARE TO BE ATTACHED TO NUMBERS

Councilman Bauer Wants Amendment to the Ordinance.

Autoists who attach strings to the tags bearing the number of their machines have been discovered.

When an ordinance providing for the examination and licensing of drivers was submitted at the regular meeting of the city council last night Member Bauer asked that it be referred again to the committee on rules, regulations and ordinances so that some amendments can be made and one is designed to cover a trick that some drivers are accused of resorting to.

Mr. Bauer said after the meeting that many drivers attach strings to the license tags so that in event of an accident the tags can be drawn up under the vehicle and kept out of sight until the machines have been driven out of the sight of curious spectators bent on fixing responsibility for collision.

He also said that many of these tags are smeared liberally with mud and grease and the figures are not legible and these are two of the evils he proposes to eliminate by the amendments he proposes. The ordinance will be up for a final passage in two weeks and it is proposed to make it effective.

Track Elevation.

Resolutions providing that the walks under the tracks at Calhoun street be so built as to give only a nine foot clearance under the overhead work instead of being on a level with the car tracks and driveways, that no vacation of streets or other concessions be made until a street seventy feet wide has been provided for under the tracks of the Pennsylvania and Wabash and that the Wabash tracks at Fairfield avenue be elevated while the present work is going on were introduced and referred to the track elevation committee. Damage that will follow lowering sidewalk grades at the south side of the tunnel prompted the request for the change in the plans.

Ordinances fixing the levy and arranging the annual appropriations were passed. The lighting fund for streets was increased from $29,150 to $31,800, the automobile asked by the board of public works was stricken out, the police pay roll was increased from $46,700 to $47,460 and the salary item of the board of health was reduced from $2,700 to $2,340, the same figures that governed last year.

The water front improvement resolution was adopted providing for the appointment of the commission and $300 was allowed the police department for the purchase of a motorcycle. An ordinance was introduced providing salaries of $1,500 a year for the chief of police, $110 a month for the captain, $90 for the lieutenant, $85 for sergeants and $75 for stationmasters, clerks and drivers and sent to a second reading.

Other Ordinances.

Ordinances providing a loop for the American Telephone and Telegraph company to give better long distance service, one covering the Bowser monorail carrier across Holton avenue and another providing for street vacations sought by the Wayne Auto Axle company were referred to the committee on contracts and franchises and a public hearing arranged for Friday night. There were a number of people, including several women, there to fight the monorail proposition.

The ordinance regulating street traffic went to a second reading and the committee on rules, regulations and ordinances. A measure carrying an appropriation of $1,700 with which the board of safety will replace two fire horses that are too old for service and one that dropped dead was passed under a suspension of the rules. A hundred dollars was appropriated to the claim of Martin H. Ankenbruck and Ernest Paul, the marketmaster's salary was increased to $480 a year, beginning the first of last August, and appropriations of $200 each asked for the police station and market house accounts went to the finance committee. The ordinance against hauling dead animals through the streets in any but covered wagons was passed and a request from the congregation of the new church at Tennessee and Crescent avenues for a street light was sent to the board of public works.

My Corns Don't Hurt a Bit.

Tired, Ailing, Swollen, Smelly, Sweaty Feet, Corns, Callouses and Bunions, TIZ Cures Right Off.

Say good-bye to your corns the very first time you use TIZ. You will never know you have a corn, bunion or callous, or sweaty, tired, swollen, aching feet any more. It's just wonderful the way the pain vanishes. Rub the corn—hammer it with your fist if you wish—no more pain after TIZ than if there had never been a blemish on your feet. Doesn't that sound good to you? Doesn't it? Then read this:

"The corns on either of my toes were as large as the tablets you make to cure them. Today there is no sign of corns on either foot and no soreness. It's an up-to-date Godsend.—Sam A. Hoover, Progress, N. C.

Just use TIZ. It's not like anything else for the purpose you ever heard of. It's the only foot remedy ever made which acts on the principle of drawing [illegible] of the poisonous exudations which cause sore feet. Powders and other [illegible] clog up the pores. TIZ cleans them out and keeps them clean. It works right off. You will feel better the very first time it's used. Use it a week and you will forget you ever had sore feet. There is nothing on earth that can compare with it. TIZ is for sale at all druggists, 25 cents per box, or direct, if you wish, from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

STATE BOX FOR LONDON'S MAYOR

Hammerstein announces that he will build a state box for the lord mayor of London, as well as the king, in his new opera house. This will be a decided novelty, for the social side of the lord mayoralty has never been exploited west of Temple Bar. The duke of Bedford is the most conspicuous boxholder and non-paying patron of the drama in all London. This is because the duke, who is one of the greatest landlords in the British metropolis, owns the property on which no less than four theaters are built. The ground lease in every instance requires that a private box and anteroom, with an entrance leading from the street, shall be maintained and kept at all times for the exclusive use of the duke of Bedford and never offered for sale. The theater management is also required to keep an attendant on duty at the box at all performances. Admission is only by special card from the duke of Bedford, the distribution of which must keep someone quite busy, for the boxes are never unoccupied. In New York the only well known instance of this kind is at the Grand opera house, where a large proscenium box is kept for the exclusive use of the Gould estate. The Gilsey estate formerly reserved a private box at the Fifth Avenue theater.—Boston Herald.

A LIBERAL OFFER

Anyone Can Try Samose, the Remarkable Flesh-Forming Food.

When the leading druggists in Fort Wayne tell you that they have a preparation which they so thoroughly believe in that they will refund your money if it does not do all that is claimed for it, it shows that the article must have unusual merits. "Can be depended upon" is an expression we all like to hear, and when it is used in connection with Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy it means that it never fails to cure diarrhoea, dysentery or bowel complaints. It is pleasant to take and equally valuable for children and adults. Sold by all dealers.

"GUARDIAN SCHOOLS" OF BASEL.

(Advance.)

In the overcrowded quarters of every large city where working people live there are always many small children who are allowed to run the streets without proper oversight. In the largest cities like London, Paris and New York they are numbered by thousands. With such surroundings and under such conditions it is not strange that a large percentage of them become criminals. The great question with the authorities is, how to handle them and prevent them as far as possible from becoming criminals. Switzerland has solved the problem, partially at least. In the city of Basel, for instance, "guardian schools," organized and supported by the state, are open every day, and from the middle of November till the middle of March every evening. They can hardly be called schools, but rather recreation classes.

Under the teacher's direction the children play games, tell stories, sing, crochet, embroider, sew and so forth. In good weather they are taken outdoors for games or walks. Each class has about thirty-five children in it, just enough for the teacher or guardian to handle comfortably. An inspector visits the classes frequently and makes reports to the school authorities. The state provides all the materials for the games and work, and also pays for the luncheons. Basel has a population of 130,000, and last year 2,000 children were taken care of in these guardian schools. In addition to this work, Basel has an organization known as the "Play association," which looks after games for young people. There is also another society, now twenty-five years old, whose special business it is to give instruction to and provide recreation for boys on Sundays and in the evenings. Last year it had 24,000 children under its care. All of which goes to show that American cities might learn some good lessons from Switzerland and her cities.

Cures Rheumatism.

If it Don't You Can Get Your Money Back, Says Meyer Bros. Co.

Now when Meyer Bros. Co., the well known druggists, make such an offer as that, where, oh, where, is the man or woman full of Uric Acid poison, which is the same as rheumatism, who is going to turn it down?

Meyer Bros. Co. have sold a whole lot of Rheuma these last few months, and if it didn't do as advertised they couldn't afford to make the offer.

Here is more proof: Porter Smith, Dobbin, W. Va., writes: "I have been a great sufferer from Rheumatism for about 26 years, and the disease had become chronic. I began taking Rheuma with little faith in its virtues, but was better from the first day I began its use, and at this time have no more pains."—Feb. 20, 1910.

Rheuma never shirks its duty. It begins with the first dose to act on the kidneys, liver, stomach and blood, and to eliminate Rheumatic poison from the whole system. 50 cents at Meyer Bros. Co.'s or mailed by Rheuma Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Send for free trial bottle.

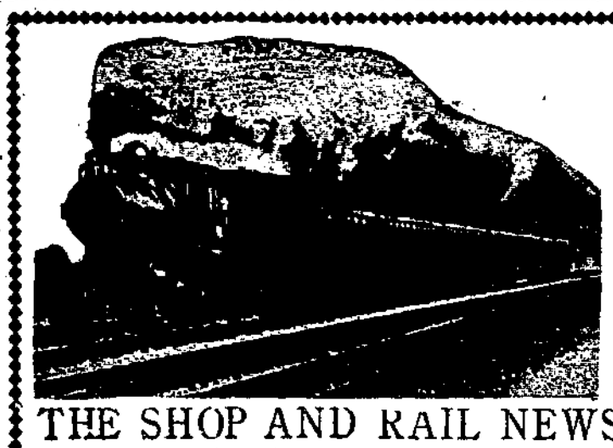
FOR PEOPLE WHO HAVE LATELY REMOVED TO FORT WAYNE.

Many strangers are moving to Fort Wayne, attracted here by the great demand for all kinds of labor. Many of these are going to housekeeping, and are desirous of knowing where they can best buy their housekeeping outfits. The Foster Furniture company commenced its business in this city in 1868, when Fort Wayne only had a few thousands of inhabitants, and is by far the oldest and the most extensive dealer in carpets, furniture, stoves and housekeeping goods generally of any firm in this city, and for that matter in all northern Indiana.

The company is what is known as a cash furniture store, as distinguished from an installment house, and yet it arranges to care for all who may desire to pay only part down at the time of purchase and the balance in weekly or monthly payments. Of course people always prefer to buy of a cash house, for their prices are so much lower than those of installment stores and their goods more carefully made, but some cash houses do not arrange as does the Foster Furniture company, to also take equally good care of the credit customers. The fact that this widely known firm is upon its forty-third year of an ever-increasing business is the best test of efficiency and reliability, and the best recommendation strangers can have of it.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is today the best known medicine in use for the relief and cure of bowel complaints. It cures griping, diarrhoea, dysentery, and should be taken at the first unnatural looseness of the bowels. It is equally valuable for children and adults. It always cures. Sold by all dealers.

L. S. C. Schroeder left today for Lafayette to attend the State Federation of Labor convention as a delegate from the Musicians' union.



THE SHOP AND RAIL NEWS

BIG CROWD TO CHICAGO.

Week-End Excursion Promises to Be Record Breaker.

If the evident interest displayed in the coming week-end excursions to Chicago be taken as evidence, the event Saturday over the Nickel Plate and the Pennsylvania will beat previous records in a numerical way. The managers of the lines engaged in the business at least anticipate the greatest crowd in the history of the week-end excursion and are preparing to handle it. Each line will have extra cars on the regular trains and will run one or more special trains, and possibly three of them. The excursionists over the Pennsylvania line will be given eight trains to choose from, the first leaving the city at 3:25 Saturday morning; the last at that hour Sunday morning, and the special train at 7 o'clock Saturday morning. The Nickel Plate gives the choice of five trains, the first leaving the city at 2:20 Saturday morning and the last at 2:20 Sunday morning. The special train over that line will leave this city at 11 o'clock Saturday morning. The tickets are good on any train returning Sunday night, Monday and Monday night except, of course the excess fare trains like limited and the Special on the Pennsylvania. The passenger agents of each line are out on the territory working up the excursion, and newspaper "ads." and handbills announce among the attractions at Chicago the ball games Saturday and Sunday between the Chicago and the Cleveland league teams.

REMAINED OVER NIGHT.

Wabash Officials Look After Business in Fort Wayne.

General Superintendent S. E. Cotter of the Wabash, who came in yesterday afternoon, remained here until this morning and spent a portion of the time on business connected with track elevation and shop work. With him were Purchasing Agent F. J. Frier, Superintendent J. C. Sullivan, Division Engineer W. S. Danes and Trainmaster C. E. Wells, all of whom went with the general superintendent to Toledo this morning.

GOING TO L. & N.

Draughtsman W. J. Gusching to Quit the Pennsylvania.

W. J. Gusching, a draughtsman, will retire from the employe of the Pennsylvania next Friday and Saturday morning will take a similar position in the office of the Louisville and Nashville company at Louisville. Mr. Gusching has been employed at the Pennsylvania draughting room over three years. His resignation will probably be followed by some promotions in the ranks of the draughtsmen at the offices.

TO GIVE SEVERAL DANCES.

With a view of keeping the players together and maintaining unbroken ranks, the Electro-Technic band will give a series of dances this fall and winter. It is proposed to make them respectable affairs, barring all undesirable characters, and hold one dance each month. There will be a cornet band of eighteen pieces and an orchestra band of ten pieces, the former to play two-step music and the orchestra for the waltzes. A meeting of the members of the band will be held next Friday evening to complete arrangements and after that meeting more definite information about the matter can be given.

FRED HUSTON HERE.

Fred Huston has been in the city for a day or two on business with the Pennsylvania motive power officials. Mr. Huston has been inspecting new locomotive work at the shops of the American Locomotive company at Dunkirk, O., for several months and will be detained there several weeks longer. The Pennsylvania company is having 65 H-8-A locomotives built at those works and 25 of this pattern built at the American works in Pittsburg. E. E. Dildine is inspecting the latter. Mr. Huston will leave this evening for Dunkirk.

TO HAVE UNIFORM RATE.

After January 1 the passenger from the east to the Pacific coast country will be able to settle the excess fare on baggage at the starting point and avoid the annoyance of looking after his baggage on every line he rides upon. Rates of excess baggage at present differ on different lines, but arrangements are being made to have them uniform.

THREE DAMAGE SUITS.

Out of the wreck on the Hocking Valley road in which G. J. DeVilbiss, formerly of this city, lost his life, has grown three suits for damages aggregating $50,000, filed by passengers on the wrecked train. William Huffman wants $15,000; Mrs. William Huffman wants $10,000 and Frank M. Backus wants $25,000. Suit was brought in the common pleas court at Toledo.

TO SOON REPORT FOR WORK.

Fred Lenz, who has been off duty a long while as the result of an injury to his hips, and Thomas Gordon, who had an arm broken while practicing scaling walls for the field day contests, are nearly ready to resume their duties at the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop. Each was there yesterday to see their comrades.

TOOK ON MORE HELPERS.

The approaching cold weather makes it possible to get men to work indoors and the vacant places in the shops are rapidly filling up. This morning the Wabash shops found employment for Harvey Keller, Wade Stranford, David Roche, Stanley Koor, S. D. Molter and C. Sivadore, all helpers.

IS SICK IN MICHIGAN.

A letter from Pennsylvania Engineer T. L. Burgess, who is on his farm at McBain, Mich., states that his health is still poor and he is not able to return to duty on the road. He will, therefore, remain at McBain a few weeks.

WILL GO TO DENVER.

Martin Stafford, the well-known Pennsylvania engineer, is preparing to make a trip to Denver and other points in Colorado and will leave Fort Wayne some time this week. Mr. Stafford is afflicted with asthma and he hopes to find relief in the west.

RETUNS FROM MICHIGAN.

Carl G. Schmidt, assistant cashier at the Nickel Plate freight office, is on duty again, after a month's absence on account of poor health. He spent the time in northern Michigan and received benefits from the sojourn there.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Oren Markey has taken employment in the pipe-fitting department of the Pennsylvania shops.

Harry Stirk, bookkeeper at the Bass shops, who had been taking a vacation, resumed his duties in the office this morning.

Vern Scherrotis, of Indianapolis, traveling agent for the Traders' Dispatch, was in the city yesterday in the interest of the company.

Frank Lesley, formerly a traveling man for S. F. Bowser & Co., is in a hospital at Toledo quite sick. Mr. Lesley resides in Van Wert, Ohio.

A. L. Hadley, chief of the engineering department of the Fort Wayne Electric works, went to Madison, Wis., today on business for the company.

Frank D. Post, assistant time clerk at the Wabash shops, resumed work this morning after a ten days' vacation spent in Detroit and Windsor, Canada.

Chief Dispatcher J. T. Cullen, of the Wabash, resumed work this morning, after a two weeks' absence for vacation purposes. He spent the time at Memphis, Tenn.

The boiler department of the Bass shops, which is crowded with work at present, is adding a man now and then to its working force. This morning F. R. Whiteley, M. Cromer and Guy P. Drewitt.

Boilermaker J. F. Sullivan, of the Pennsylvania, went to Middlepoint, Ohio, this morning to repair the flues in engine 7347, which has been in service on the Middlepoint-Lima local freight run.

Aldean, the seven-year-old daughter of Boiler Foreman S. H. Center, of the Pennsylvania round house, who has been quite sick with typhoid malaria for ten days, is now improving and will probably soon be able to resume her studies at school.

The change in the manner of disposing of the grape crop in the lake regions in Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York has resulted in a great loss of freight to the Nickel Plate, which line a few years ago had a big traffic in the fruit. Grapes are now transformed into wine, jelly and other finished products near the places they were harvested, instead of shipping the fruit in its natural form to the consumer.

L. V. Casso, hurt a month ago; A. Brinneman, hurt ten days ago, and L. A. Keltner, hurt two weeks ago, have recovered from their injuries and this morning resumed their respective duties in the Pennsylvania machine shop.

James Ryan, who is engaged in the restaurant business in Dayton, O., is here to spend a few days with his father, Andrew Ryan, of the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop.

PHYSICIAN ENTIRELY CURED OF ECZEMA

By the Use of Cuticura Remedies. Prescribes Them and Says They have Cured when Other Formulas Failed. They Always Bring Results.

"My face was afflicted with eczema in the year 1897. I used the Cuticura Remedies and was entirely cured. I am a practicing physician and very often prescribe Cuticura Resolvent and Cuticura Soap in cases of eczema, and they have cured where other formulas have failed.

"I am not in the habit of endorsing patent medicines, but when I find remedies possessing true merit, such as the Cuticura Remedies do, I am broad-minded enough to proclaim their virtues to the world. I have been practicing medicine for twenty years, and must say I find your Remedies A No. 1. I still find the Cuticura Remedies as good as ever. They always bring results. G. M. Fisher, M.D., Big Pool, Md., Dec. 4, 1909."

DOCTOR RECOMMENDED THE CUTICURA REMEDIES.

"When I was ten or twelve years old I had a scalp disease, something like scald-head, though it wasn't that. I suffered for several months and most of my hair came out. Finally they had a doctor to see me and he recommended the Cuticura Remedies. They cured me in a few weeks. I have used the Cuticura Remedies, also, for a breaking out on my hands and was benefited a great deal. I haven't had any more trouble with the scalp disease. Miss Jessie F. Buchanan, R. F. D. 3, Hamilton, Ga., Jan. 7, 1909."

Cuticura Soap (25c.), Cuticura Ointment (50c.), Cuticura Resolvent (50c.) and Cuticura Pills (25c.) are sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., 135 Columbus Ave., Boston, Mass. Mailed free, 32-page Cuticura Book on Treatment of Skin and Scalp Humors.

JOHO EXPECTS WIFE TO LIVE MONTH ON $1.75

Has Been Waiting Around for a Job—The City Court News.

Ed Joho, a husky young fellow who formerly lived at 1120 Burgess street, expected his wife and a baby 18 months old to live on $1.75 a month and was taken back a bit when the strong arm of the law interposed and through the medium of Judge Mungovan in the city court required that he give a bond of $300 to support his family or stay in jail.

He sent his wife to the country and visited her once in two weeks, and on one occasion he separated himself from two bits and in another fit of generosity he gave her $1.50. Although there is plenty of work and he is able bodied he has been loafing and allowing relatives to care for his family.

To Juvenile Court.

Irene Niswander, 1902 Calhoun street, and Celia Smith, 812 Harrison street, were held to the juvenile court for stealing $40 from James Liggett at Mrs. Nellie Willsey's boarding house on South Calhoun street. They are 14 years old and found the money under Liggett's pillow while they were visiting at the Willsey home yesterday. They bought hats and shoes and a camera. Detective Hall, who made the arrest, is attempting to get some of the money back. The girls have been in trouble before because they found a pocketbook and refused to return it.

The Other Cases.

The case of Rose Tresselt, charged with manslaughter for running down Irene Cox, was continued to October 4 on account of the absence of Prosecutor A. E. Thomas.

Charles Smith was fined $5 and costs for drunkenness. John Kennedy drew $1 and Charles Samland was held until tomorrow.

City cases against P. A. Randall for failure to cut weeds and Byron A. Thompson for failure to abate a nuisance were continued.

BATTLESHIPS ARE GATHERING.

Uncle Sam's Fighting Machines Are Seeking New York Harbor.

New York, Sept. 28.—The big American battleship fleet which is to make New York harbor its rendezvous for the next few days, swelled rapidly in numbers today. The second squadron of the fighting ships, headed by Admiral Schroeder's flagship, Connecticut, comprising the first division, which already were in port, were early joined by the Minnesota, Vermont, Mississippi and Idaho.

This squadron had hardly passed up the harbor when the outer gates were reached by the battleships Nebraska, Rhode Island and Virginia.

With expected additions the naval display is perhaps the finest the port has ever witnessed except on occasions of celebrations participated in by foreign war vessels. The men of the fleet will be given liberal shore leave here.

BERLIN RIOTS SUBSIDE.

Berlin, Sept. 28.—The rioting coal strikers appear to have worn themselves out during the night and today quiet prevailed throughout the Moabit precinct. There are no reliable figures of the number of injured in the clashes with the police. At one hospital thirty wounded citizens received treatment.

ANNUAL MISSION FEAST.

Interesting Service at Salem Reformed Church Sunday.

The annual mission feast of the Salem Reformed church will be held next Sunday at the church and the pastor, Rev. A. E. Kielsmeier, has arranged for the occasion an interesting program, the services in the morning and evening being appropriate to the occasion.

The out-of-town speaker of the day will be Rev. G. D. Elliker, of LaCrosse, Wis., the general secretary of the church mission board and a pulpit orator of wide reputation. He will speak in German at the forenoon services and in English at the evening services.

Before assuming his present position Rev. Mr. Elliker was pastor of the church at Waukon, Iowa. In his mission work he spent the last summer in Canada and the northwest and is now returning from a tour of the eastern states. He has an interesting story to tell.

THE MARKETS

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 28.—Liberal and cheaper Argentine and Russian offerings with excellent foreign crop conditions led to weakness today in the wheat market here. Pacific coast sales to France, however had a somewhat steadying effect. Cash demand was low and stocks increasing. The opening was ⅝c lower to ⅛c higher. December started ⅛c off at 98c and after rallying to 98⅛c to 98¼c, sank to 97⅞c.

Fine weather and the escape of the belt from frost last night caused commission selling of corn. December opened ¼c to ⅜c down at 50¼c to 50⅜c, touched 50½c and reacted to 50¼c.

Oats lacked strength and fell with other grains. December opened a shade to ⅛@⅜c off at 33½c to 33¾c and favored the lower level. Outside selling chiefly for short accounts, pressed provisions down. First sales were 2½c to 12½c lower with January pork at $17.40. November lard at $11.52½ and January ribs at $9.27½.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

The Day on Wall Street.

New York, Sept. 28.—The initial dealings in stocks today sent prices downward. Reading was a feature with first sales of 7,000 shares at 145⅝ and 145⅝, compared with the last sale yesterday at 146¼. Otherwise the declines were small and the dealings meagre. Canadian Pacific rose ⅝ and International Paper preferred 1. Long Island lost 1.

The market was unable to withstand the profit taking in Reading and went down further. Reading, Southern Railway preferred, Ontario & Western, Chesapeake and American Sugar were forced a point under yesterday's final prices encouraged some buying by the shorts and the market rallied a good fraction. Reading first preferred and Wheeling & Lake Erie gained 1 and American Car preferred 2¼.

Evidence of realizing pressure on Reading and the higher rate for call money kept the forenoon market unsettled. Resistance was shown at declines but there was lack of power to advance. Wabash preferred gained 1. Kansas & Texas and Great Northern Ore Certificates fell 1. The tone was steady at noon. Bonds were irregular.

The market was without any movement of consequence between 12 and 1 o'clock. American Locomotive preferred lost 2 points. American Steel Foundries advanced 1.

There was scarcely enough business to keep the ticker moving and fluctuations were important, but towards a slightly higher level. The corn products all moved up 1¼ and Pacific Mail and Distillers' Securities 1. Erie second preferred yielded 1⅝.

The market closed heavy and lifeless. Chesapeake & Ohio recovered to a substantial fraction over yesterday. Utah Copper gained 1. Kansas City Southern preferred 2 and International Harvester preferred 3. There was a slight upward swing to the general list but the movement was sluggish and unimportant. Another sag in Reading affected the tone again.

TAKEN TO OLD HOME FOR BURIAL

Police Say Stubbs' Death in Cleveland Was Suicide.

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 28.—The body of Donald B. Stubbs, general agent of the Union Pacific railway here, who died last night from a bullet wound inflicted Saturday night, with what the police say was suicidal intent, was sent to the old family home at Ashland, Ohio, for burial today. The dead man's father, J. C. Stubbs, of Chicago, vice president and traffic manager of the Harriman lines, his mother, sister and wife, accompanied the body.

The family contend that Stubbs was accidentally shot while examining a newly purchased revolver.

Columbus, O., Sept. 28.—Petitions asking Governor Harmon to suspend Mayor Marshall on charges of gross misconduct in office, growing out of his management of the car strike situation, were formally filed at the governor's office. Information concerning the test of the charges made and the number of signatures attached was refused at the executive offices. The petitions were left last week, but at the suggestion of the governor's secretary were not to be considered as filed until presented to the governor today. As the governor was out of the city today, those urging the petitions insisted they be considered as filed.

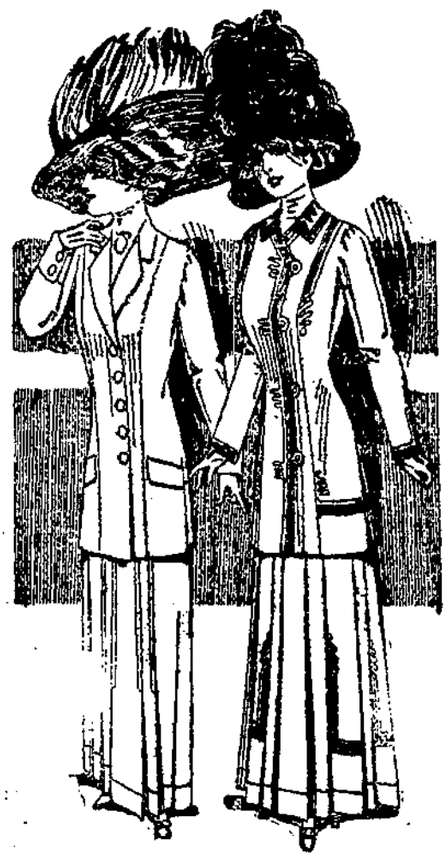
A Wonderful Display



That is the verdict of the throngs of people who have responded to our invitation to view our opening display of Autumn and Winter merchandise. To attempt to describe the attractiveness of the styles in Millinery and Suits would be useless. That is the reason we have these opening days that all may come, see and admire.

There Is Nothing

In the world of Millinery, in styles, shapes or materials that bears the stamp of fashion that cannot be seen here, and the expressions of delight heard on all sides is proof positive that Fort Wayne is up-to-date when it comes to appreciation of style and beauty.

In the Suit Room

The showing of garments is superb. Simple tailored suits fashioned from beautiful fabrics, stylish in every detail. Then the exquisite costumes in silks and chiffons in magnificent colorings and combinations, and the practical coats and dainty evening wraps, waists, skirts etc., all come in for their share of admiration. Come and see each and every one. Your eyes alone can tell you of their beauty.

BOB CHANLER PUT IN BAD BY STRONG INSTINCT

Professor Says He Became Easy Prey to Power of His Love.

St. Paul, Sept. 28.—Declaring the extravagant actions of "Bob" Chanler to prove his love for Lina Cavalieri to be nothing more than the expression of an animal instinct that cannot be controlled, Norman Wilde, professor of philosophy and psychology at the University of Minnesota, defends Chanler and says he is not to be blamed.

"Love is an instinct, just as appetite for food is," says Mr. Wilde. "It has the same range of strength. For instance, some men will satisfy their hunger by a small, well-prepared steak. Other men with large appetites will sit down at a table and eat an enormous steak that has been prepared by a careless cook and is raw in some places, raw in others and covered with ashes and cinders. Their appetites do not fail them owing to the revolting appearance or preparation of the food.

Strong and Weak Men.

A strong man is capable of a strong love. A weak man is capable of only weak love. His affection must be fostered by its object and continually coaxed or it soon leaves. That kind of man may love easily and often. A man like Chanler loves as he does everything else, with all the force in his body. Chanler is a strong man in many ways. I do not mean physically, although he is that, too, but mentally. His brother's remark: 'Who is loony now?' is more or less correct. The man is 'loony' as the world sees it, although the line between lunacy and sanity is very finely drawn, indeed. The 'Bob' Chanler the world knows is partially unbalanced. The real man is only in the grip of an instinct that is stronger than the hold conventionality has upon him."

TAILOR WINS CHANLER SUIT.

New York, Sept. 28.—Robert Winthrop Chanler, the terms of whose prenuptial agreement with Mme. Lina Cavalieri, the singer, have led to involved litigation, must pay his tailor, William Barnes, $1,062 in satisfaction of a judgment obtained by Barnes in the city court and filed in the county clerk's office yesterday, or find his property subject to levy by the sheriffs of New York and Dutchess counties. Chanler defaulted in the suit.

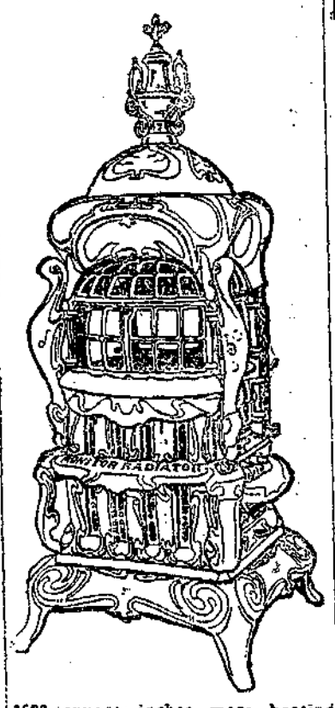
Want a stove that will put all the heat in the house instead of up the chimney?

THE MONITOR RADIATOR produces twice as much heat from the same fuel because it has a long inside draft that makes the fire draw well—and burns up all gases before they are wasted up the chimney.



1683 square inches more heating surface than any other stove built

You can heat your up-stairs rooms by attaching pipes to its patent hot air flue. The patent grate cuts the clinkers and dead ashes from the grate and turns them into the ash pan. Don't need the poker. It will hold fire twenty-four hours without renewing.
